'Starkweather Asked Caril To Kill Him'

. . . Girl's Statement Read At Trial

By Del Harding

Charles Starkweather threw a gun at Caril Fugate and told her to kill him while they were in her home at 924 Belmont between Jan. 21-27, according to evidence introduced at Caril's murder trial Monday in Lancaster District Court.

Caril, in a 166-page statement she gave authorities Feb. 2-3, is quoted as replying "I told him (Starkweather), don't be silly."

Caril was also asked in the statement by Chief Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrnbruch "And I believe you also told me, Caril, that at no time did he tell you that he was going to kill you, is that right?"

She replied "yes."

Caril also is quoted in the statement, which was read to the jury Monday by Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele, as agreeing that she had several opportunities to escape from Starkweather.

Chances Listed

Asked by Fahrnbruch when she had such opportunities she said "when I went to the mail box," and also when she left the home to talk with her sister and brother-in-law who were in a taxi parked in front of the house.

She also acknowledged she had a chance to escape when two policemen came to her home the night of Jan. 25.

"I opened the door and let the dog in, (while talking with the policemen), and then I was going to go with them, but I didn't," Caril said in the statement. She did not elaborate.

She was also asked "Now Caril, while you were in the (Lauer) Ward home (at 2843 So. 24th), could you have gotten away?"

'Door Squeaked'

"Yes. I wanted to get away, but when I opened the door it squeaked," she is quoted as replying. She said she was referring to the library door, which leads to the outside.

When asked about her claim that she was Starkweather's "hostage" during the winter murder rampage, she said "He (Starkweather) told me he took me as a hostage because of them (apparently a reference to her family)." Asked if he told her she was a hostage the first day she was in the house with him (Jan. 21) she replied "I think it was later."

"Is that the only time," Fahrnbruch asked her, "that you and Charles talked about you being a hostage?"

"I think there was another time," she replied.

"Do you remember what was said at that time?" Fahrnbruch continued.

"No," she said.

'Felt She Was Hostage'

"Did you feel that you were a hostage before the conversation in the home?" Fahrnbruch asked.

She replied "yes."

Scheele spent 4 hours and 10 minutes Monday reading the statement but when Judge Harry A. Spencer adjourned court for the day about 4:39 p.m. he reportedly needed about 30 minutes more to complete it.

About 15 of the statement's 166 pages were not read to the jury at Judge Spencer's order. He upheld defense Atty. John McArthur's objection that they were "prejudicial."

Scheele will finish reading the statement Wednesday morning and then is expected to rest the state's case. McArthur will then start his presentation, and said Caril herself will be the first defense witness.

There will be no court Tuesday, Veterans Day.

Dead Upstairs

Referring to events at the Ward home, Caril said she woke up Jan. 28 from a nap and "I was looking around and couldn't find Mrs. Ward, and he (Starkweather) told me that she was dead upstairs in the bedroom."

She said the Ward's housekeeper, Miss Lilyan Fencl, was alive when Starkweather told her this.

Asked what she did when Starkweather told her Mrs. Ward was dead, she said she "asked him how he killed her . . . he said he stabbed her in the throat."

She said Starkweather then gave her a knife and told her to go in the bathroom and wash it off, which she did.

Sprinkled Perfume

Then she said Starkweather told her "to go upstairs and around . . . he said he could smell the blood." She said she Ward's dresser and sprinkled it around on a chair and the rug.

Caril said in the statement that she acted as a lookout to watch for Mr. Ward's arrival home from work. She said she waited in the dining room and when Ward drove in she "hollered" at Starkweather.

She said she then went in the bathroom because she was "scared," but was later told by Starkweather what had happened.

Started Fighting

Caril said Starkweather told her "Mr. Ward came home and he didn't get all the way in the house, and I think he said he came in a little ways, in the door, and grabbed hold of the gun . . . then they started fighting out there."

Starkweather, she continued, "was standing by the stairs and he said he let go of the gun and Mr. Ward fell down the stairs, and then fell on the floor, and he said he ran down the stairs and Mr. Ward started picking up the gun, and he said he picked up the gun, and Mr. Ward, I think he said, picked up a

VETERANS AT REST

Lengthening shadows from an afternoon sun creep away from simple headstones on a quiet hillside in Arlington National Cemetery where lie more than 97,000 of the nation's military dead. Token homage to all will be paid today with the laying of many wreaths on the Tombs of the Unknown in Veterans Day ceremonies.

Reds To Resume All-Out Shelling

Taipei, Formosa (Tuesday) (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists said the Communists announced Tuesday they would resume full-scale shelling of the Quemoys every day.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said the announcement broadcast to Quemoy by loudspeakers canceled the recent Red practice of hitting key areas of Quemoy only on alternate days.

Tuesday is a shelling day by the timetable announced over Peiping Radio almost two weeks ago. Monday, an even-numbered day of the month, was the 5th consecutive even day the Reds withheld fire from the Quemoy supply beaches and airstrip.

In recent days the Communist shelling from the mainland has been light even on odd-numbered days. Between 12:30 a.m. and 6 a.m. Tuesday the Reds fired 76 shells at the offshore islands, the Nationalists said.

Council Will Again Get Chance To Tally Tabby

By Virgil Falloon

Is the City Council now ready to bell the city's controversial cat situation?

The proverbial question was again asked Monday in a proposed ordinance requiring registration and license tags for the city's feline population.

Supporters of the cat-registration ordinance hope to have better luck in finding enough Council members willing to undertake the task this time around.

During the past year or so, the Council indefinitely postponed several registration proposals after controversial sessions.

3 Proposals Lost

Opposition to cats having to wear "license tags like dogs" has been voiced by many catfanciers. An ear-tattooing method for cat identification has brought storms from other quarters. Another ill-fated measure suggested the photographing of cats for identification.

Anyway, a proposed cat-registration ordinance is again headed for public hearing on Nov. 24 before the Council.

It would provide that no cat (after being weaned) may be kept in the city without first being registered and must wear a license tag when permitted to run at large.

The proposed license fee would be $1.50 for all cats during the annual registration year beginning each Jan. 1.

Could Hold Cats

Also the ordinance provides that the Humane Society shelter may hold for observation up to 14 days any cat that has bitten a person or another animal as a precautionary rabies measure.

The cat measure also provides for the registration of cat kennels and payment of an annual $10 fee.

Other provisions for enforcement of the cat ordinance are similar to the city's dog ordinance.

The cat ordinance was proposed by members of the Humane Society board.

Former State Schools Head Matzen Dies

John M. Matzen, a former state superintendent of public instruction, died Monday evening. He was 81, and lived at the Capital Hotel.

Mr. Matzen served as superintendent from 1920 until 1927, following a 14-year term as county superintendent of schools in Dodge County.

He was also an assistant professor of school administration at the University of Nebraska.

In 1913 Mr. Matzen received his bachelor of science degree from Fremont College. In 1927 he received a bachelor of arts degree and in 1928 a master of arts, both from the University of Nebraska. He received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Columbia University in 1931.

He was a Scottish Rite Mason and Shriner, a member of the Knights of Pythias, the Nebraska State Bar Association, the National Education Association and the Department of Superintendence of the latter.

The funeral will be at Hooper.

Guide Rock Pair Killed In Crash

Lincoln Star Special

Red Cloud, Neb.—A Guide Rock, Neb., couple was fatally injured Monday afternoon when the car in which they were riding apparently went out of control on State Hwy. 3 about 4 miles east of here.

The Safety Patrol reported that Harry Reeves, 83, was his wife, Loette, 84, died a short time later of injuries.

Their car was eastbound, the Patrol said, when it apfound dead in the car and parently went out of control and plunged into ditch, striking a cement culvert.

Reeves was the driver, the Patrol said, and the couple was alone in the car.

The deaths raised the Nebraska highway fatality toll to 289, 41 more than last year at this time.

'No' Is Given Soviet

U.S. Rejects Call For An End Of Berlin Pact

Washington (AP)—The United States Monday bluntly rejected Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's call for an end to 4-power occupation of Berlin.

A State Department spokesman said none of the 4 powers can walk out on the occupation agreement on its own. And he said the Western Big 3 are prepared to fight if necessary to defend West Berlin's freedom.

State Department press chief Lincoln White gave that U.S. reaction to statements by Khrushchev at a Polish-Soviet friendship meeting in Moscow.

Break Hinted

Khrushchev demanded an end to 4-power occupation and hinted Russia might break its treaty promise to permit free access between West Berlin and West Germany.

In response to newsmen's inquiries, White said:

"The United States has always maintained the position that the 4 powers are in Berlin as a result of the total surrender of the Nazi regime.

"No one of the 4 powers can divest itself of its responsibilities and obligations unilaterally.

"The United States certainly has no intention of so doing."

Moscow (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev demanded an end to 4-power occupation of Berlin Monday. He hinted the Soviet Union is ready to free itself of treaty obligations to the West on freedom of transport between isolated West Berlin and West Germany.

The Soviet leader told a Polish-Soviet friendship meeting at Lenin Stadium "The time has evidently come for the powers which signed the Potsdam Agreement to give up the remnants of the occupation regime in Berlin . . ."

(The United States, Britain and West Germany all turned cold shoulder on the idea.)

Khrushchev declared the Western powers "long ago abolished that legal basis on which their stay in Berlin rested" and on which rights of communication between West Germany and West Berlin depend.

West Denounced

Denouncing the Western powers, which he claimed had fostered militarism in West Germany, he declared: "And on top of everything they enjoy the right of unhampered communication between West Berlin and West Germany by air, rail, highways and the waterways of the German Democratic Republic (East Germany) which they do not even wish to recognize."

Mail Count Cuts Brooks' Margin

Thousand-Vote Win For Demo Seen If Trend Continues

Gov. Victor Anderson sliced some 533 votes from Democrat Ralph Brooks' slim gubernatorial margin Monday as substantial mail tabulation pointed to a final thousand-vote edge for the McCook educator.

Populous Douglas County, which handed Brooks a 6,000-vote victory in last Tuesday's balloting, turned about-face in startling fashion Monday, presenting the Republican governor with a 626 to 295 mail vote margin.

Lancaster County, which Brooks won by nearly 3,500 votes, gave Anderson a 412 to 250 edge.

And Adams County (Hastings), also in Brooks' column last Tuesday, handed the governor an 85 to 45 vote edge.

Margin 2,458 Now

Mail tabulation and canvassing changes held Brooks' margin at 2,458, according to the Associated Press.

United Press International tabulations gave Brooks a 2,101-vote lead.

Latest figures from major wire services:

AP: Brooks, 209,356; Anderson, 206,898.

UPI: Brooks, 208,927; Anderson, 206,826.

Based on a remaining mail count of some 4,600 (more than 2,500 have been tabulated), Gov. Anderson would have to garner 77% of the vote still out to win.

If he maintains his current 64.3% margin in mail counting, Anderson would cut Brooks' lead to a tiny 1,100 votes.

Using UPI figures, Brooks' edge would shrink to less than 800 votes.

Contest Possible

A costly contested election could be in the offing if Brooks' margin drops that far, although GOP leaders said it was too early to discuss the possibility.

Deadline for contesting is Nov. 24.

Using the projected mail percentage count in a race now hanging on less than one per cent of the vote, Anderson would only have to change one vote in a third of the state's 2,106 precincts to win a third term.

Estimated cost of a contest, to be paid by the contesting elector if the result is not altered, hovers near $30,000. Actual cost could exceed that figure.

Possibility Discussed

Republican leaders are understood to have discussed the possibility of contesting, but no decision has been made.

Some 28 of the state's 93 counties have thus far tabulated mail ballots. Most totals will not be available before Friday.

Reports from major mail-tabulating counties Monday:

Lancaster: With some 100 absentee ballots yet to be counted, Republicans picked up ground in the 3 hotly-contested state races for governor, lieutenant governor and treasurer.

With no further counting until Thursday, totals showed:

Governor: Anderson, 412; Brooks, 250.

Douglas: With 25 absentee and 177 disabled voter ballots to be counted. Anderson picked up 68% of the mail tabulation with 626 votes to Brooks' 295.

TRADITIONAL RITES TO MARK VETERAN'S DAY

Lincoln will observe the 5th annual Veteran's Day Tuesday with a parade beginning at 10:42 a.m., followed by the traditional minute of silent reverence honoring the dead at 11 a.m., a firing squad salute and the playing of taps.

The parade will move from 15th and P, south to O and west to 13th for the ceremony at 11 a.m. After the ceremony the parade will continue west on O to 9th, south on 9th to N, east on N to 15th and north on 15th to P.

Participating in the parade will be the Marine and Naval color guards, the 34th Army National Guard band, an American Legion firing squad, contingents from the Nebraska National Guard and the University of Nebraska Reserve Officers Training Corps, the Air National Guard, veterans organizations, Shrine Motor Patrol, Gold Star Mothers and Boy Scouts.

All Lancaster County courthouse offices will close in observance of the holiday, including District Court where the Caril Fugate murder trial is now in its 3rd week.

County Commissioners rescheduled their regular Tuesday morning meeting for 10 a.m. Wednesday.

City offices and banks will also be closed and mail deliveries will not be made. Lincoln stores, however, will remain open.

UN To Hear Demo

Texan To Plead For Control Of Outer Space

Seattle (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said Monday night Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas has accepted a mission to the United Nations to support the United States effort to achieve the peaceful control of outer space.

Dulles said in a statement that "in order to make clear to the world how much all Americans agree on the importance of this subject and in view of the deep congressional interest in it, I have with the President's approval asked Sen. Johnson to go to the General Assembly to make a statement during the debate."

Dulles Pleased

He said that he was pleased to announce that Johnson has accepted the assignment.

No date has yet been set for consideration of the outer space question, but it is expected to come before the General Assembly's Political Committee within a matter of days.

Johnson is chairman of the Senate Space and Aeronautics Committee created last year.

The United States has made the first move in the U.N. to bring the problem of peaceful control of outer space under its jurisdiction.

New Committee

There appeared a possibility that the question may eventually come before the new disarmament committee of 81 members created by the U.N.

The Dulles appointment of Johnson appeared to be the administration's first move since last week's election in carrying out a stronger bipartisan policy. In announcing the appointment of Johnson, Dulles, however, recalled that the U.S. delegation to the U.N. General Assembly "is, as always, bipartisan."

Both Sens. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Mansfield (D-Mont) are at present on the U.S. delegation.

Next On Agenda

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — The General Assembly's Political Committee may get into the question of outer space Tuesday or Wednesday. It is next after the current Korean debate, which is expected to reach a vote Tuesday.

The Soviet Union already has submitted a proposal calling for the assembly to endorse U.N. control of a ban on military space rockets. It is linked with the long standing Soviet campaign against U.S. bases on foreign soil.

7.6% Natural Gas Rate Hike Proposed Before City Council

. . . Needed To Meet Northern's Wholesale Increase

By Virgil Falloon

An increase of 7.6% in Lincoln natural gas rates of $401,901 annually was proposed in an ordinance introduced before the City Council Monday.

H. A. Thorson, local district manager for Central Electric and Gas Co., said the increase is necessary to offset Northern Natural Gas Co.'s wholesale gas increase effective Nov. 27 under a refunding bond.

The proposed refundable city rate change represents average customer increases of 65c a month for heating only and 85c a month for space heating, water heating, and cooking, Thorson said.

Give 2 Readings

The rate ordinance will come up for public hearing and 3rd reading on Nov. 17. The Council gave it two readings Monday so that passage with emergency provisions could make the increase effective Nov. 27.

Thorson said the company notified Council members of the pending increase last June, but withheld their request for the Nov. 27 increase until now in hope that Federal Power Commission action or a decision by the U.S. Supreme Court, in a case now pending, may make the rate increase unnecessary.

Lloyd Marti, attorney for the gas company, said that Central has intervened in Northern's rate case before the federal commission and will oppose the increase when the case is heard.

'Some, But Not All'

"Northern is entitled to some increase, but not the full amount asked," he said.

Marti noted that Central has opposed Northern's 7 proposed increases since 1950 and only about half of the total amount has been granted.

Thorson said the proposed increase in the retail rates will just cover the increased wholesale cost of gas with a refunding agreement and rate adjustment if Northern obtains less than the amount asked.

The increase in city rates ranges from 10 cents on the minimum bill (500 cubic feet) to 5 cents per 1,000 cubic feet over 40,000 cubic feet used. A graduated scale is provided between the extremes.

The local gas company's comparison of cost for the retail customer under rates now in effect and those proposed is:

| Cubic Feet Used | Present | Proposed Nov. 27 |
|---|---|---|
| 500 | $ 1.25 | $ 1.35 |
| 600 | 1.35 | 1.46 |

City Dog Rabies Shot Ordinance Introduced

A new dog ordinance requiring that all dogs within the city be vaccinated for rabies prior to registration was introduced Monday before the City Council.

Backed by the City-County Health Board, the new anti-rabies measure is expected to raise some controvery at its public hearing set for Nov. 24.

It would provide for compulsory vaccination and registration of all dogs of age 3 months or older, but city officials said a proposed amendment to 6 months of age and older has already been advanced.

Urges 6 Month Wait

Cornhusker Kennel Club representatives urged the minimum age of 6 months because rabies innoculations administed at a younger age are less effective in maintaining a 3-year innoculation period.

While the present ordinance requires registration at 3 months, a city official said the deadline would necessarily be changed to coincide with the minimum vaccination age.

While present registration fees are $3 for male dogs and $5 for females, not spayed, a uniform fee of $3 for all dogs has been advanced by some sources.

Certificate

The proposed ordinance would require owners to present a certificate of rabies vaccination of their dogs before the issuance of a dog license.

The veterinary certificate must show a rabies vaccination date not more than 3 years and two months prior to expiration date of the license applied for.

Dr. G. R. Underwood, city haelth director, appeared before the Council to explain its provisions. He said he was "concerned" with the city's large non-vaccinated dog population and the possibility of a serious rabies outbreak.

The Cornhusker Kennel Club recently sponsored a free clinic for the voluntary vaccination of dogs.

City Orders Sidewalk Finished Along Cotner

The City Council Monday ordered the public works department to construct, or cause to be constructed, sidewalks on the east side of Cotner Blvd. from 48th to Sumner.

If the walks are constructed by the city, the cost would be assessed against the individual property owner.

Several property owners appeared before the Council in a last-ditch plea that the sidewalk order be rescinded as causing financial hardships.

Ordered Once

Sidewalks on both sides of Cotner from South to 48th were ordered a year ago, but 17 owners now involved in the latest Council action failed to comply.

In other action, the Council okayed heavy industrial zoning for a 22-acre tract northeast of Havelock near the U.S. Hwy 6 and city route cutoff.

The tract, adjoining an already-zoned industrial tract, is the proposed site of new terminal grain elevators for the C-G-F Grain Co. of Topeka, Kan.

Also, in connection with the industrial site, the Council introduced an ordinance that would provide for an additional 40 feet of highway right-of-way and increase the present 75-foot setback on the property to 90 feet. The provision is agreeable to the property's owner, city officials said.

The proposed multiple-dwelling zoning for Walker from 48th to 54th was laid over next week. The Council has proposed an amendment to limit the zone change to 49th to 51st on Walker.

Council members said they were unwilling to zone the larger area at this time as recommended by the City Planning Commission.

Zoo Parking Work

In other action, Dobson Bros. Construction Co. was awarded a $11,972 contract for asphalt surfacing of the parking area adjoining the Antelope Park Zoo Building and for construction of two crushrock parking areas elsewhere in the park. The estimate was $12,000.

Also okayed was a $5,093.70 contract to Constructors Inc., for paving reconstruction of 33rd from A to B in connection with a storm sewer project.

Ordinances introduced on first reading with public hearing set for Nov. 24:

—An amended ordinance prohibiting the possession of alcoholic liquor by a minor to permit its enforcement on both private and public property. (The present ordinance prohibits possession only on public property.)
—An ordinance amendment adopting the language of the state statute relating to the operation of motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs.
—Paving district on 46th from Baldwin to St. Paul.
—Water district for 36th from Calvert to Sheridan Blvd.
—Grading district for 36th from Calvert to Sheridan.
—Paving district for J between 55th and west line extended south of Lot 30, Randolph Acres.

All Council members were present for the regular afternoon meeting and the morning session except Alfred DuTeau, excused for vacation, and Kenneth Lewis, excused to attend out-of-town meeting.

City Dept. Building Plans Told

Future building plans for the City Water and Light Department on the large city-owned tract at 26th and Center were outlined before the Council in its longest tour of the year Monday.

Public Words Director D. L. Erickson proposed the future construction of a combined water and lights building, costing some $100,000, at the site.

The building would have office facilities, service areas, and contain the present facilities now in operation on leased property at 24th and O.

30th, A Yard

Erickson said the water and light material yard behind the pumping station at 30th and A would also be located at this combined location.

He described the water and light operations from the 24th and O location as "inefficient and costly" because crews must go from there to either 26th and Merrill or 30th and A for the open-storage and warehouse materials.

The city now pays $375 a month for its 24th and O water and light and service departments, but will pay $400 monthly beginning Jan. 15. Erickson said the quarters have become inadequate.

Although the start would be small, Erickson estimated the 26th and Center location might eventually contain $500,000 in buildings and equipment. It would also have railroad trackage.

In addition to these 3 city locations, the Council also toured:

—Site of a proposed street department building at 33rd and Baldwin.
—Proposed multiple dwelling zoning change near 51st and Walker.
—Industrial location of the proposed grain elevators project northeast of Havelock near the Hwy 6 city route cutoff.
—Suggested pavement project at near Sumner and Jefferson.
—Proposed sidewalk project through Memorial Park and across the Rock Island tracks at 33rd and Van Dorn.
—Requested street vacation at 11th and High.
—Proposed L Street cross-over from the Capital Parkway.
—Proposed K St. crossover near 21st and K for K and L as a one-way pair.

'Dulles Put Nation In Terrible Fix'—Sen. Douglas

By Gerry Wright

"Secretary of State Dulles has placed the United States in a terrible fix," Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) stated Monday when interviewed at a University of Nebraska convocation.

Sen. Douglas criticized the Eisenhower administration on its policy on the Formosan defense of Quemoy and Matsu. He said he favored the defense of Formosa, but added that "these islands are not a key in the defense of Formosa, and the loss of Formosa might lead to the loss of the Philippines."

When asked about the future state of Formosa, Sen. Douglas said, "I would like to hold on to Formosa."

Resents Charge

Sen. Douglas commented that he resents the charge made by President Eisenhower that the Democrats are the "spenders." He said the Republicans "are completely inconsistent in making such a charge, for the present government wastes far too much money on subsidies for various things."

He said that he felt the Democrats should adopt a strong civil rights plank whether or not the southern wing of the party agrees. He said that many southern Democrats will agree. He added that both he and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) will begin work on the removal of the "roadblock" to legislative civil rights action on the first day of the next session of the Senate.

With regard to the recent election, he stated that he thought the results of the Democratic trend were definitely not a vote for the Democrats but rather against the Republicans.

Support When Its 'Good'

Sen. Douglas continued that since the Democrats will hold a majority in both the House and the Senate, they will support Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles "when we think that the Republicans are supporting something for the good of the people, we will go along with it. But we will keep our distance."

When asked about his possible candidacy for the 1960 presidential election, Sen. Douglas said, "Don't be foolish!" He added that he worried to much and that by 1960 he will be 68 and "that's too old for a President."

He said Nelson Rockefeller, governor-elect of New York and Vice President Richard Nixon are probable candidates on the Republican ticket. He put Sen. John Kennedy first on his list for the Democrats, with other possibilities being Gov. Robert Meyner of New Jersey, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, and Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota.

Sen. Douglas was interviewed by 3 Washington newsmen, Kenneth Crawford of Newsweek, Neal Stanford of the Christian Science Monitor and John Metcalf, a Washington news analyst and editor of "Background." Sen. Douglas also attended a question and answer session.

Sea Scoured For Missing Airliner

. . . Hope For 36 Aboard Fades

Lisbon, Portugal (AP)—Planes and ships scoured the Atlantic Monday for signs of a missing Portuguese plane but as the hours passed hope waned for finding the craft and the 36 persons aboard. The plane made a forced landing Sunday off the coast of Portugal.

Six of those aboard are Americans.

One search plane reported picking up a distress signal Monday morning but it was so faint and garbled the pilot could not make it out. Lt. George Beaver, pilot of the U.S. Navy Neptune, said he spotted oil in the area, about 180 miles west of the southern tip of Portugal, but in subsequent sweeps failed to see any signs of wreckage or rafts.

The plane, a twin-engine converted Martin marine seaplane, was en route from Lisbon to the Madeira Islands when engine trouble forced it to sit down on the sea an hour out of Lisbon. The weather was clear and fine then, in the position radioed by the British pilot, but there was a heavy swell Monday and a 22-knot northeast wind.

Ex-Air Force Plane

The plane, which formerly belonged to the U.S. Air Force, was owned by the Artop Airline, which inaugurated Lisbon-Madeira service Oct. 1.

In addition to the Americans, the passengers included 7 Germans, 5 Britons, 3 Belgians, two Frenchmen and 7 Portuguese. The crew of 6 included two Britons and 4 Portuguese.

U.S. air-sea rescue planes from Port Lyautey, Morocco, Portuguese planes and ships and British planes and ships helped in the search. Dutch, French and Portuguese airliners detoured from their regular routes also to help.

Twelve pages of wholesome colored comics, feature stories with plenty of pictures and the big entertainment section are a few reasons why nearly every one reads The Sunday Journal and Star.

Girl Once Denied DAR Award Gets U.S. Citizenship

Boston (AP)—Ilse Naujoks of Marlboro who was refused a high school good citizen award by the Daughters of the American Revolution last March because she wasn't an American citizen became one Monday.

She was one of 130 persons who took the oath of allegiance before U.S. District Court Judge Francis J. W. Ford.

German-born, the retiring, blonde, blue-eyed Isle became the center of a controversy, much against her will, when the DAR explained its rules forbade a good citizen award to any person not a citizen.

The 19-year old native of Hamburg, Germany, had been voted good citizen by schoolmates at Marlboro High School. She led all the girl students in academic standing in her 4 years.

Nevertheless, without explanation or forewarning the DAR mailed a citizen award to the school for Ilse in time for her June graduation.

A.T. & T. Hits 27-Year High

New York (AP)—A sharp advance in American Telephone & Telegraph helped the stock market race to a new record high Monday. Final prices were around the day's best.

American Telephone sold at its top price in 27 years, closing up $4 at $200.75.

Back in 1929, however, it set an all-time peak of $310.25 a share.

The upturn added an estimated 2 billion dollars to the quoted value of all stocks listed on the New York stock exchange, based upon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks.

U.S., Allies Reject Soviet Attempt To Hamstring Geneva Talks

. . . Cold War Issues Ousted

Geneva (AP) — The United States and its allies quickly rejected Monday an attempt by the Soviet Union to hamstring with cold war political issues the technical talks on prevention of surprise attacks.

U.S. delegation leader William C. Foster reminded the Russians that the conference —which opened at noon—was organized to study complex scientific and military problems.

From the facts so determined, he said, it might be possible to organize an international system to lessen the danger of any country being struck again by a Pearl Harbor-like blow.

Across the table Soviet Deputy Foreign Minster Vassili Kuznetsov voiced sweeping demands for nuclear and conventional disarmament without going into the problem of guarantees and controls. In the usual Communist terms he attacked American foreign policy, blaming the United States for the worldwide armaments race.

'Peace Loving'

In a flat voice Kuznetsov described the Soviet Union as "carrying out a peace loving foreign policy based on the principles of peaceful coexistence" and said:

"With regard to the prevention of a surprise attack, it is necessary to emphasize that reliable measures for prevention of an attack can be worked out only on condition of the complete prohibition of atomic and hydrogen weapons, the removal of such weapons from the armaments of states, the destruction of their stocks, the liquidation of military bases on foreign territory and a substantial reduction of conventional weapons and armed forces."

In the western view Kuznetsov's remark could only be interpreted as a Soviet attempt to twist the 10-nation conference entirely out off shape—to clog the proceedings by tossing in all the disarmament problems over which East and West have disagreed since the end of World War II.

Tangle

Kuznetsov's proposals presumably would tangle the talks on surprise attacks with the American-British-Russian negotiations simultaneously in progress here on ways of enforcing a suspension of nuclear weapon tests.

This also was unacceptable to the western powers. An American spokesman said after the meeting:

"The United States has made clear in its notes to the Soviet Union what it regards as the scope and objectives of the (surprise attack) conference. . .

"We do not believe that discussion of other disarmament measures — including linking this conference with the nuclear test talks — properly belongs within the framework of this meeting."

Police Officer Lane Takes Deputy Post

A former Lincoln police officer, Robert D. Lane, will replace Deputy Sheriff Lowell Closner in the Lancaster County Sheriff's office, starting Saturday.

Closner, 26, resigned his position as deputy effective Saturday to accept a U.S. civil service position in Omaha as investigator with the social security claims division.

A 1958 University of Nebraska graduate, Closner started with the sheriff's office in August.

Lane, 30, served on the Lincoln Police Force for 3½ years before resigning last June to accept the position of chief of police at Valentine.

The former police officer had served as a motorcycle officer and as a cruiser officer since his appointment to the force in 1955.

Man Good After Fall From Ladder

Jacob Mohr, 73, of 1730 No. 30th, was in good condition Monday at Bryan Memorial Hospital after falling from a ladder in front of his home.

A hospital official said he suffered a severe laceration of the right hand, fractured ribs and slight head cuts.

Police said Mohr was cutting a large limb from the top of a tree when it broke, knocking Mohr from the ladder. The ladder also was broken by the falling limb.

Smiling Caril Breaks Down As Bartletts' Death Related

By Nancy Ray

A smiling Caril Ann Fugate entered Lancaster District Courtroom 1 Monday morning to begin her 3rd week of trial on two counts of murder, but within half an hour the 15-year-old girl was in tears.

She broke down as Asst. Police Chief Eugene Masters replied calmly to cross examination questions by Defense Atty. John McArthur, and remained tense and red-eyed during the rest of the court session. The subject: death of the Bartletts.

Showing marked petulance against both Sheriff Merle Karnopp and Mrs. Karnopp, who is assigned to escort Caril during the trial, she refused with a short shake of her head to leave the courtroom during the afternoon recess, and turned to Atty. Merril Reller for a short conversation which again brought tears to her eyes.

Most of the court day was taken up with the reading of Caril's statement — one which her attorney says she will explain when she takes the stand in her own defense later in the trial.

Although some details of the killings were deleted from the reading by County Atty. Elmer Scheele, the monotonous detailing of the events of the murder spree seemed to move the young defendent deeply as she sat hollow-eyed and solemn, apparently intent upon the reading of her own explanation of the events of last January.

Her statement pointed the finger of guilt at Starkweather for all the killings detailed, and gave the impression that she was being ordered to perform the acts she did to help Starkweather.

In one part of the statement, Caril related how, after the Jensen and King killings—which she said she did not witness—she helped Starkweather get the Jensen car out of a ditch because "he told me while we was getting it out, if he got it out that he would take me home because I had seen enough and heard enough."

Perhaps the confessed killer was planning to take his 15-year-old girlfriend back to her home—scene of the first 3 murders—because Caril related how she and Starkweather drove by the Bartlett home later that night, but did not stop because there were policemen there.

Ward Slaying Details Given In Caril's Statement

piece of steel or something, and he shot him, I think."

"I heard a shot. And then he told Mr. Ward to go upstairs nice and easy, and Mr. Ward started up the stairs, and he got up a little ways and started running, and I don't know what happened then," she related.

She was asked what she saw when she came out of the bathroom.

"Well, the maid was sitting there where the large table is, sitting on a chair there against the wall, and Mr. Ward was laying in on the floor by the door, moaning," she replied.

Caril said Starkweather searched Ward but could not find a billfold on him.

Later, Caril said she and Starkweather, both carrying loaded guns, took Miss Fencl upstairs.

The 4 pages dealing with the stabbing of Miss Fencl were deleted at Judge Spencer's order.

Other parts of the statement dealt with the murders of Bennet farmer August Meyer and Bennet high school students Robert Jensen, 17, and Carol King, 16. Caril is charged as Starkweather's accomplice in the Jensen death.

Asked About Moyne

Caril said while heading toward the school cellar east of Bennet the night of Jan. 27 that Starkweather asked the teen-agers if they had any money.

"The boy," she related, "said yes, he had $4, and handed his billfold to Chuck (Starkweather), and Chuck handed his billfold and the boy's billfold to me. I took the money out of the boy's billfold and put it in Chuck's, and handed Chuck's billfold back to him, and handed the boy's billfold back to the girl, because he asked me to."

Asked what happened when they arrived at the storm cellar, Caril replied:

'I Pointed Gun'

"Chuck told the boy to get out, and I pointed the gun at the girl. I put it on the seat back . . . and told her to get out." She said she was holding her father's .410 shotgun at the time.

Caril said Starkweather than marched the youths to the cellar while she got into the car's front seat. She said Starkweather stayed down in the cellar about half an hour, and during this time she heard several shots.

She said after he returned to the car and they had gotten the car from the ditch where it had gotten stuck they headed for Lincoln. On the way she said she threw Jensen's school books from the car.

Went By Her Home

Caril said they drove past her home, 924 Belmont, upon arriving at Lincoln and "it looked like some policemen" were there. She said they did not drive by in front of the house but circled it and then headed for Hastings.

They then returned from Hastings, slept in the car at 24th and Van Dorn, and went to the Ward home.

Caril said while at Tate's Service Station 8 miles south of Lincoln on U.S. 77 on Jan. 27 (before heading for Bennet) she wrote a note saying "Help. Police. Don't Ignore." She said she left it in her coat which was found when she was captured in Wyoming.

If any such note was found previous testimony by Wyoming lawmen and by Mrs. Merle Karnopp, who searched Caril, did not bring it out.

Meyer Death

Caril gave this account of the death of bachelor farmer Meyer Jan 27 (who was killed before Jensen and Miss king).

She said she and Starkweather walked up to Meyer's farmhouse, the dog started barking and Meyer came out. "I don't know what he said, and we walked over to the red barn; that's the first barn; and Chuck said he needed the horses to pull the car out," she said.

"Then," she added, "Mr. Meyer said— I don't know what he said. Then we started to walk back to the house, and Mr. Meyer started to go in the door, and I saw him (Starkweather) raise the gun and heard a shot." She said Meyer was not armed at the time.

What probably were the state's final witnesses testified Monday morning before Scheele introduced the statement (which was received in evidence over McArthur's objections that it was inflamatory and prejudicial).

Asst. Lincoln Police Chief Eugene Masters, concluding testimony he started Friday, told of finding the bodies of Marion Bartlett, his wife Velda and their 2½-year-old daughter Betty Jean bundled up in sheds behind their home Jan. 27.

A Tear

While listening to this part of his testimony, a tear slipped down Caril's cheek. She also chewed her lips nervously.

McArthur asked Masters on cross-examination if he would be willing to risk Caril's life or liberty on his memory of a Feb. 1 conversation to which he (Masters) testified Friday. Masters said he would.

If you were the father of a 14-year-old girl who was suspected of murder, McArthur asked Masters, would you permit her to be questioned (as Caril was) by lawmen without your being present?

"If my daughter had been involved in the things Caril Ann Fugate was, I would." Masters replied.

'Amazed' At Calmness

Masters said he was "amazed" at how calm Caril was during the Feb. 1 conversation with Fahrnbruch, during which she related details of the murder spree.

Also testifying were Men's Reformatory Supt. Harold Smith and court reporter Audrey Wheler.

Smith told how, as a Safety Patrol captain on Jan. 27, he was present at 924 Belmont when the bodies were found and of finding a sign on the door saying that everyone was sick with the "flue." Caril, in her statement, admitted writing the sign.

Miss Wheeler said she had taken down and transcribed into typewritten form Caril's statement at the Lincoln State Hospital Feb. 2 and Feb. 3 in the presence of hospital psychiatrist Dr. Edwin Coats, Mrs. Karnopp (wife of the sheriff) and Fahrnbruch.

The state has now called 40 witnesses since it began its case Oct. 27.

Grandsinger Will Be Returned To Valentine Today

Grandsinger will be taken from the State Penitentiary early Tuesday morning for Valentine, Neb., where his family will be allowed to visit him before he is taken to Rushville to await retrial next Monday for the murder of State Safety Patrolman Melvin Hanson.

Cherry County Sheriff Willard C. Freeman, in Lincoln to make arrangements for Grandsinger's transfer, told The Star Grandsinger would be taken to Rushville Wednesday.

Grandsinger was convicted by a Cherry County grand jury of first degree murder and sentenced to die, but on appeal Federal District Judge John Delehant ruled that Grandsinger was deprived of the right of effective counsel and must either be freed or tried again.

Defense attorneys requested the re-trial be moved from Valentine to Rushville.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Decongestant Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

Age And Economy

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A growth in population is usually taken as a good thing and it generally is. But the latest figures of the U.S. Census Bureau show us that a growth in population can mean different things, depending upon the age group in which the increase is taking place.

The figures show the U.S. to be growing at a faster rate than anticipated in 1956.

Rapid Pace Of Growth

The 1958 estimate for this nation's 1975 population is between 215,800,000 and 243,900,000 as compared to a range of from 206,900,000 to 238,500,000 estimated in 1956 for 1975. But it does not necessarily follow that the economy is going to progress in equal proportion to the rise in population. This is because the rise will occur in two basic classes of people—young adults, the 18-to-24 age group, and people over 65.

There is expected to be some stability to the increase among children under 18 and in the group from 25 to 64. The thing to figure out, if one wishes to speculate on the effects of the future population, is which age groups bring about the biggest expenditure of money.

It might be said that the increase in the young adults group will stimulate the economy, as the report of the Census Bureau notes that most families are formed by this group. If this is so, it can be reasoned that more money will be spent as the years go by for establishing new family lives. This would include such things as housing, cars and household items.

This is also the age bracket which includes college age young people and a lot of money is spent on children going to college. Even families who live in a college town such as Lincoln find that the demands on the purse are heavy when a youngster starts to college. Part time work by the student helps the situation but there are few young people in college who are not receiving a substantial assist from mother and dad.

Money spent in this field would go more toward such things as clothing, perhaps cars, tuition, books, entertainment, etc. There might be a greater variety of spending for or by this age group but it is probably not as large an amount as for the beginning family or some others. But there are other considerations which detract from this age group as an expanding influence upon the economy.

For one thing, it is a group in which a great many members would be a drain upon the economy. They are unable, for one reason or another, to provide all the funds they need. Thus, their income must be supplemented by parents or relatives. Any time money is being taken out of the economy rather than put in, the situation will do little to advance things.

The growth in the group of people over 65 is not expected to bolster the economy any. Again, this would be people who would, primarily, be taking money out of the economy rather than contributing to it. They spend money, of course, but what they have to dispose of is generally fixed and limited.

The smallest growth is expected in the ages 25 through 64 with a virtual standstill from 25 to 44 and a moderate increase from 45 to 64. Growth here, it would seem, would be the greatest stimulant. This is natural because this is the group in which the strength of the economy can be found. This is the working group which has a constant and growing income and heavy expenditures. The average family, it is said, changes homes about every six years. The 25-to-44 group, therefore, contains many home buyers.

The Workers Place

The entire 25-to-64 group is the big market for all of industry, as it has its hands on the money. It may seem like too small a detail, but when the figures involve millions of people, the stage of detail has been passed. A shift of a few million people in the market can have a substantial effect upon industry.

Looking At The Future

Currently state allocations of federal aid hospital funds are based on community need.

It is significant that the State Health Department is going to ask the State Hospital Advisory Council to give study to the current Michigan plan which bases allocation on geographical need.

It does not follow that the council will prefer the Michigan plan, but it does tell Nebraska people that the rapidly changing hospital and care picture is challenging old concepts and calling for a reappraisal for new and improved solutions.

The council's study should be welcomed and its ultimate judgment will be awaited with interest.

The Michigan plan is an involved one. Suffice to say at this early stage that it attempts to give balance geographically to such care and hospitalization services as fall within the metes and bounds of federal support. Its aspiration is to see that no region is bereft of facilities, which are now varied, essential to the application of diagnosis and care.

Such a change from past approach to hospital improvement is more profound than a contrast of the words "community" and "geographical" imply. All the more reason why the study should be carefully conducted and its significance fully appreciated.

Nevertheless, it is satisfying to learn that the State Health Department is sensitive to the future and not reluctant to confront it with an open mind.

The Same Problems

The U.S. way of doing things may not always appeal to Communist rulers but when the time for action comes, you can find many things behind the Iron Curtain just taking shape that have been a part of the Free American society for many years. The United Arab Republic has announced a five-year industrial program for the Syrian region of the regime.

A $160 million program is planned and will cover 43 projects employing 100,000 laborers. What the details are is not clear but the program appears to run along the lines of public works projects. We in America would not talk the same kind of government as Syria but when it comes to the practical workings of this government, they often bear remarkable similarities.

The same thing is true in Communist China where a reclamation program is to be launched next year to irrigate 419,536 square miles of desert land. There apparently will be both deep wells and water diversion used as a means of turning the dry and wasted land into productive fields.

Again, there is nothing in common between the governments of Communist China and the free world. But any way you look at it, reclamation is reclamation. Irrigation means nothing more than putting water on the land where there has been a shortage and no poltical philosophy can change this.

Neither public works nor reclamation and flood control would be handled the same in any two countries. But they are a basis for concluding that there is some common ground between all the people of the world in their problems and the solutions to these problems. Perhaps some day this reality will destroy the myth that all mankind's common goals must be reached by such conflicting means.

Ghosts That May Not Be Dead

It could be disheartening to a victorious office seeker to realize that victory celebrations are far too short lived and too quickly followed by the public mandate to solve complicated public problems.

The Democratic landslide handed the winners an impressive fistfull of hard problems, not the least the requirement to bring forth a farm program that will work.

It was interesting to note that the first suggestion was offered at week end by Herschel Newsome, head of the National Grange. He would free the federal government from subsidizing ungoverned farm production, but would get the producers a better return by supporting domestic consumption with a processing tax, in short, make the farmer collect his price from the people who use his product, and cope with the surplus problem by adjustment of production of the surplus according to what the foreign markets will absorb.

This is not a new philosophy, or rather a combination of philosophies. It is to be recalled that the first farm program devised by the Roosevelt administration called for production restrictions coupled with a fair market price by supports based on a processing tax. The particular measure was declared unconstitutional. The other portion of the Newsome formula is suggestive of the Brannan plan which was a processing tax support for food in domestic consumption with a lower world market return for the excess.

Peculiarly enough both approaches were never subjected to test and proof but have lived under a stigma, one because of faults in the construction of the law; the other because it was advocated at the wrong time by the wrong man in the wrong party. But both suggest a refresher study if for no other reason than the dismal failure of the more classical doctrines of the Eisenhower administration.

In commenting favorably on the proposal of directors of the First National Bank for an increase in the institution's capital structure this column referred to a new structure of $2 million capital and $2 million reserve. That is the present structure. The desired one would be $2.3 million capital and $2.3 million reserve. This, according to Burnham Yates, First National president, would combine with an anticipated undivided profit by the end of the year of $700 thousand, would give the bank a capital fund of $5.3 million.

Some Reasons Why Ike Failed

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's nephew, Mike Gill, popped into the White House election night and found the President watching a western movie.

"My God, Uncle Ike!" blurted Mike. "Aren't you watching the election returns?"

"I've lived with a Democratic congress for four years," mumbled the President. "I can live with them for two more."

Except for flashes of interest, Ike displayed the same apathy the following night when Vice President Nixon dropped over to hold a political post-mortem. Ike's attitude was that of an elder statesman who is through with politics and is relieved to be out of it.

Nixon claimed the election results proved that the Republicans need fresh faces — young, attractive, aggressive candidates.

Nixon also discussed the discouraging GOP defeats in the farm states. Without saying so outright, he made it clear that he considers Secretary of Agriculture Benson a political liability.

The President's attitude made equally clear that he has turned the political reins over to Nixon.

During six weeks of the recent election campaign, this writer covered a cross-section of the country, from coast to coast. It was not difficult to predict how the political tide was running. Here are the main factors, which Ike apparently does not know about, which are making it run that way:

The recession — would have been forgiven if there hadn't been so much talk, first, that there was no recession, second, that it would be over in March. Ike knew that it wouldn't be over in March because his experts reported it would not be over until October. The public knew what the experts said because the public reads the papers. The public just doesn't like to be fooled.

Danger of war — The crisis over Quemoy could have been forgiven if there hadn't been so much talk about unleasing Chiang Kai-shek and so much criticism of the Democrats for war in Korea. People remembered Ike's "I will go to Korea" statement during the 1952 campaign and wondered why he didn't do something drastic in 1958 to stop danger of war three miles off the Chinese mainland.

Goldfine and Adams — The Goldfine case would have caused much less attention if Eisenhower hadn't harped so continuously on Democratic mink coats, hams, and deep freezes.

Sputnik — When Oct. 4, 1958, passed with the United States still not launching a satellite anywhere comparable to Russia's, people began to doubt the military infallibility of the President. Prior to Oct. 4, 1957, they had considered all military matters safe in his hands. He was the expert. But the Russian Sputnik shook that faith; and the series of political moves better known as "Operation Soothing Syrup" actually did not soothe nearly as much as the White House thought.

Scott Illustrates Republican Problem

WASHINGTON — The only Republican survivor of the Democratic tornado who knows national party politics from the inside is Senator-elect Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania. Scott scored an upset against Gov. George Leader in the third largest state with a vigorously liberal campaign stressing that he is for civil rights and against right to work.

He brings with him to the Senate the marks, scars and absence of illusions that he acquired as Thomas E. Dewey's hand-picked national chairman for the ill-fated GOP campaign of 1948. The old guard visited on Scott their venom and disappointment and finally brought about his ouster as chairman, but he continued his eight-term career in the House.

Within hours, practically, after his triumph, Scott presented himself at the White House with Vice President Nixon to talk about the political facts of life to the President and Eisenhower staff. He told them how he won with a minimum of help from party sources.

Politely but plainly he explained that so-called Eisenhower Republicans could be of very little assistance to the President if they were relegated to congressional committees on window-washing and shoved aside by right wing forces in the national committee.

He had already sent telegrams to his new Senate Republican colleagues — Keating of New York and Prouty of Vermont — asking them not to commit themselves to a choice of Senate leaders in the next Congress until the three could confer. The three are old associates in the House.

What happens now to Scott will be the best immediate practical test of what Republicans have learned from the election just concluded which saw so many old guard landmarks swept away.

The White House to date has a very poor record of building up the senators and representatives identified with Eisenhower Republicanism. It took the easiest way, which was to do business with the old guardsmen who had and still have congressional seniority.

With Senator Knowland gone, the senior and spiritual leader of that group is Senator Bridges of New Hampshire. But Bridges is not in good health and wants no part of the wearing duty of floor leader as successor to Knowland. It has been tacitly agreed that the job will go to Senator Dirksen of Illinois, who at some time or another has been on everybody's side and is very fast on his feet.

The 34 Republicans in the next Senate are about evenly divided into three groups: right wingers, liberals and those whose claim to be called moderates consists chiefly in their willingness to go along with the President when he makes an issue of something.

Patchwork Prairie Country

I have been up early the past few mornings just as the first light of the sun ignited the upper plumes of the cottonwood and poplars that slope to the road. There were lunches to be packed and coffee to be fixed in thermos jugs for the trip to the field. Two extra men were helping The Farmer with the corn harvest—hauling, elavating and making rings. Then, with their food tucked away, I settled down to make my own school lunch, followed by breakfast. By the time I was ready to eat breakfast, I had seen so much food that I felt as if I had just eaten a sizable portion.

The early morning is truly the best part of the day. (This I kept repeating to myself as I vainly struggled to get out of bed.) But once I had the coffee perking, I needing no more convincing . . .

Everything was sugar-coated with frost and glittered like jewels carelessly thrown about when the first rays of the sun caught them. Tree leaves trembled with a glasslike tinkle in every swirl of lilting wind. The hum of the tractor at the far end of the field and the cornpicker chattering merrily along behind echoed on the buoyant autumn air. A rooster pheasant, frightened from his hiding place, glided across the field warning his fine feathered friends as he went . . .

Old Penny Dog sat at one end testing the wind to see if a rabbit perchance was heading his way. He is getting so old that breakfast must come to him. He cannot run and scout around for it as he once did.

☆ ☆ ☆

Blue Jeans spent Saturday bouncing back and forth to the field in the trailers. For variety he bounced along behind the cornpicker through the field. While The Farmer made one round, we just at at the end talking small talk.

"You know what the cornpicker reminds me of?" he asked as it came toward us through the field. Of course I hadn't the slightest idea.

"It's just like a giraffe except this giraffe has a long orange neck instead of one that's brown and yellow spotted."

I was not quite convinced so he added: "Just watch until it gets almost to the other end—all you can see is its neck."

I had to admit that it did look like one of those creatures trampling through the stalks—orange neck and ail.

There was a time when I couldn't wait until my birthday had come again on the calendar. The years do strange things, for now it seems when November arrives I want to skip over the birthday month without much fanfare . . .

I suppose every young girl longs for the time when she can wear her first pair of high-heeled shoes and apply just a light touch of lipstick. Then almost too suddenly the years have gone, and the thrill of high-heeled shoes have disappeared. She's back again to low heels because they are more comfortable and style means little if anything at all so long as the corns and bunions have ample room. Lipstick did wonders long ago but that was fifteen years B. C. (Before Crow's-feet) . . .

When I find a cosmetic that will hide the crow's-feet, that will be the day. If I camouflage my face, the job has to be foolproof or the years will show through. So until the time arrives when I can apply a complete line of cosmetics to erase the years, I will continue to look my age.

A Good Job

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Once again The Lincoln Star did its usual good job in the reporting of a spirited campaign.

Your editorials were most enlightening, and most important of all, I could detect no editorializing on the front pages, which is commendable.

The Star staff did an excellent job of developing reader interest in the campaign which helped to bring out the better - than - average total vote.

Objective View

Louisville, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In answer to Mr. Gabriel's letter of Nov. 8, I fail to see what could have been accomplished if I had used my real name. For his benefit, I am neither a politician nor do I have any "ax to grind" politically.

I do not believe I questioned Mr. Meyres' sterling worth nor the fact that he has been writing for The Lincoln Star for "ages." Rather, I question his faulty reasoning. Mr. Meyres said: "I'm a Democrat. Therefore, I'm for fair play."

Too often in our society today, many of us, myself included, are guilty of faulty reasoning. We believe that our organizations, our friends, our families, the goods we use, in fact anything closely associated with us, is the best merely because it is ours. This is no criterion to determine the excellence of anything or any person.

It is my firm belief that one must look at anything objectively, without any emotional attachment, in order to determine its relative merits.

The Small Farm

David City, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Democratic trend throughout the agricultural Midwest in the recent elections, which occurred despite this year's bumper crops of wheat and corn, clearly indicates that the voters of this area do not favor Secretary Benson's farm program.

The effort to squeeze out the small independent farmer would ultimately lead to disaster for the following reasons:

(1) The small, individually owned and operated farm is still the cornerstone of American economic life, a fact which is often overlooked.

(2) The farm home is likewise the cornerstone of the American way of life.

(3) The recent trend away from general farming is a move in the direction of greater crop specialization. This, in turn, means that more surpluses of certain crops such as corn and wheat, will continue to pile up.

(4) The small farmer who is forced off his land, or who seeks to make a living by part-time employment in industry, while his farm is in the soil bank, is thrown onto the labor market and thereby increases the amount of unemployment in the country as a whole. The plight of the small farmer in the present situation therefore becomes a concern of labor as well as agriculture.

Favorable crops have temporarily eased the situation, but unless Congress develops some effective farm legislation designed to strengthen the position of the small independent farm owner and operator, we may yet have a major depression comparable to that of the 30's.

Basic Policies

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The editorial you wrote on November 7 is about what I expected to see from an ardent Democrat like you. I agree that the Republican party in Nebraska and the nation needs a general overhauling. The things that should be changed are the personalities involved and the methods they used, not the basic principles or policies. When a group of people fight for what they think is best and lose, it is not time for them to change their minds but to try harder the next time to more effectively present their case. I hope the Republican party is capable of doing this in 1960.

Autumn Time

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Fall has arrived in all its splendor. Trees have exchanged their cooling summer greens for the more glamorous shades of reds and gold and the softer tones of orange or yellows. Along the byways from the plum thickets, the fruit peeks, a mouth-watering pink. Wild grapes will soon purple along with the clusters of elderberries. Sumac spreads bright red leaves to welcome the arrival of gay yellow sunflowers and the feathery goldenrod that sways in the breeze like impatient ballerinas.

Upon a vine where giant golden star-shaped flowers once lifted dewy faces to the sun's morning kiss, fat round pumpkins now doze lazily, while the proud green rows of corn have aged and browned. Across an azure sky where fuffs of white clouds float in languid disdain, flocks of birds are flying early to their southern winter resort.

Trees along the river peek vainly at their reflections mirrored upon its surface as it moves majesticly onward. Walking beneath tall oaks from which their seeds have fallen, one stoops to pick an acorn to tuck away to remember the day. As if one could forget . . .

A Choice?

Lincoln, Neb.

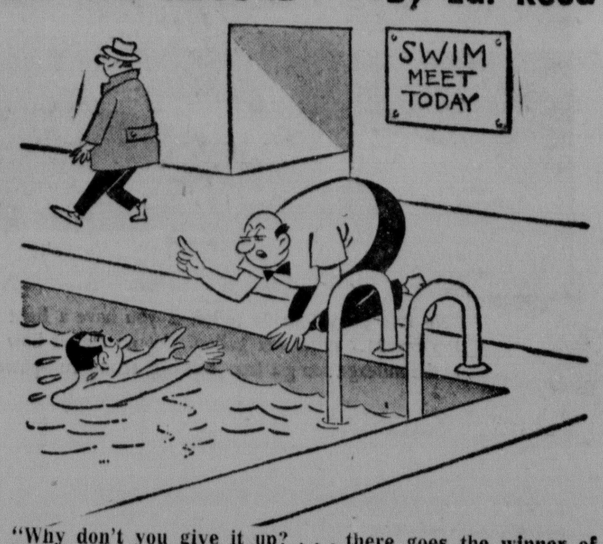

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Mr. Herrington, our state tax commissioner, certainly takes a good picture as seen in another state paper. However, I'm in a quandary as to whether he is displaying a pugnacious pose or if it is just a "little old plain pout." I believe he said that he wasn't sure whether or not he would stay if Mr. Brooks was elected. Seems as though he feels he will have a choice.

It has been a beautiful dream while it lasted.

A little later we find Mr. Ress making a very sincere and realistic statement concerning his future plans. He leaves the decision up to the new governor. It is really refreshing to find a man thinking more of the fulfillment of his job than of his own personal feelings.

NU Debaters Cop Tourney Trophy At OU

The trophy offered by Omaha University for its annual debate tournament was brought home by 4 University of Nebraska debaters.

At the same time, 4 other University debaters presented 10 non-decision debates before more than 500 people at 3 Kansas schools, while 4 others were undefeated in a novice tournament at Kansas State in Manhattan.

Winning the Omaha competition were Robert Ross of York and Melvyn Eikleberry of Lincoln, who were undefeated, and Wanda Head of Nebraska City and Phyllis Elliott of Lincoln, who won 3 out of 4 rounds.

Novice Tourney

Undefeated at the novice tournament at Kansas State were beginning debaters Douglas McCartney of Norfolk and Ruth Nelson of Lincoln. Winning two out of 4 were James Ehret of North Loup and Williams Cords of Waverly, who were attending their first tournament.

The 4 women debaters who met teams from the University of Kansas, Kansas State University and Washburn University at Topeka were: Nancy Copeland of Norfolk, Barbara Bacon of Kearney, Judith Holman and Eileen Warren, both of Omaha.

The appearance in Kansas brings to 17 the number of non-decision debates presented so far this year by University debaters before approximately 1,500 people.

Also competing in the Omaha tournament were Charles Keyes of Idaho Falls, Idaho, and Renny Ashleman of Lincoln, who won two out of 4 rounds.

All debates were on the national collegiate topic for the year on peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Donald O. Olson is director of debate.

Lime Program

A good liming program starts with a soil test, agronomists at the University of Nebraska report. This will tell how much lime is needed to correct acidity. Too little lime won't accomplish the desired results. Too much may lock up needed trace elements such as boron and manganese and cut down the availability of other nutrients.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

We have been running a little shy on livestock since our Siamese cat went off to live with rich neighbors.

However we have acquired a couple of turtles. One turtle is named "Mickey Mouse" after our favorite TV star. The other turtle is named "Mrs. Wilson" after our favorite baby sitter.

The turtles are about as big as a Mexican 10-peso piece. They are named by the 3-year-old heir to my turtle fortunes. And cared for by the teen-age heiress to my white shirts when the collars get frayed.

☆ ☆ ☆

The turtles live a gaudy life. They live in a turtle palace. How times have changed!

When I had my youthful turtles, they lived in an old dishpan.

I lavished them with affection and captured bugs. But the mortality rate was fearful.

All this is changed these modern days. Turtles are not kept in a dishpan full of water.

"It makes their shells soft," said the pet store man. For $1.50 he sold me a turtle palace. For another half dollar he sold me a sack full of turtle food. It cost me 75 cents more for a special kind of gravel.

For a while I thought I would have to buy shoes for these reptiles.

"How would you like to walk barefoot on hard gravel?" cried my daughter.

"I DO walk on hard gravel. Especially in the morning when I have to walk down the driveway for the papers. When I cannot find my slippers."

"I think you're mean!"

The turtles do not seem to mind going about barefoot. Mrs. Wilson is a galloper. Mickey Mouse is a thinker. He pulls in his head and thinks deep turtle thoughts.

The $1.50 turtle palace is an oval plastic dish.

In the center is a little spiral ramp. It leads to a small pond of water.

On top of the ramp—get this! On top of the ramp is a little hole. And into this hole we screw in a small plastic palm tree!

These turtles could not have it better if they were living at the Royal Hawaiian. Lazing around the pool. Under the palm tree with dark glasses and a paperback copy of "Peyton Place."

The whole setting reminds me of Waikiki. Matter of fact, I have seen real people at Waikiki who look o good deal like Mickey Mouse and Mrs. Wilson.

☆ ☆ ☆

I will say the turtles are an improvement over the guppies. A few years ago we had guppies which are a sort of no-personality fish.

These guppies were kept in a glass jar and were the apple of my daughter's eye. She crooned to them.

The main problem with the guppies was they were turned loose in the bathtub for exercise. She turned them loose in the tub. Then she forgot about them and went to school.

When I got up, I had to catch them before I could have a bath.

It is quite a trick to catch guppies in a bathtub. You cannot pull the plug least a guppy go down the drain. And your child will hate you forever.

You have to catch them with a coffee strainer. Ladies who own the coffee strainer think it is unsanitary to catch guppies with it. You have to sneak the strainer. (You can also catch them with a flour sieve.)

☆ ☆ ☆

Mrs. Wilson and Mickey Mouse do not need any catching. They are slow beasts. Also, they cannot run barefoot on the hard, hard gravel.

They make excellent pets. They do not holler in the mornings like the parakeet we had. And do not get behind the washing machine like the lizard we once adored.

If they grow big enough, we will have tortice shell combs. I do not think that will happen though. We run through livestock pretty fast at our place. What next?

Off-Campus Grad Study Lacks Cited

...NU DEAN URGES RESIDENCY PROBLEMS SURVEY

A warning for caution in the approach to off-campus graduate instruction, and a plea for a comprehensive, long-range study of the residency problem were issued to the American Assn. of Land - Grant Colleges and State Universities by Dean John C. Weaver of the University of Nebraska Graduate College.

Dean Weaver

Dean Weaver addressed a sectional meeting of the annual convention of the association

Since the end of World War II, Dean Weaver said, there has been a rapid increase in college-trained scientific and technical personnel in government and industry. Many of these individuals want more education, generally at the graduate level, to improve their professional competence. Many employers are supporting further education for their staffs.

"Often these scientific-technical people are located far from university campuses," he said, "and because they are mature and have family responsibilities they cannot leave their jobs for instruction on a college campus."

Dean Weaver said great pressures have been brought to bear, especially upon public universities, to provide on-the-site training where these people can secure, on a part-time student basis, a master's degree, or at least programs of a master's degree level.

State universities have an obligation to serve the educational needs of the people they serve, Dean Weaver said, and certainly there is need for this kind of training.

"On the other hand there is a strong negative reaction to off-campus graduate instruction," Dean Weaver explained. "For one thing quality instructional staff for on-campus programs is hard to find. Sending these instructors to distant centers frequently reduces their teaching and research effectiveness from sheer fatigue.

"Further, there is the belief held by many educators that the best graduate education is the one which comes from intimate and prolonged contact with university life, on the campus.

"There are many ramifications to the off-campus problem. In sum, we have on one hand a strong and, probably in most instances, sincere need, and a variety of blinking yellow lights of caution, if not red lights of danger."

Ike Outlines Economic Plan To Help Free Asia

Long-Term Assistance Proposed

Seattle (AP)— President Eisenhower Monday outlined a major 5-point program of long-term economic assistance to Free Asia. He called on other free nations to join the United States in sharing the burden of a "great peaceful crusade for growth in freedom."

"By working together to create hope of progress," he said, "we raise barriers against tyranny and the war which tyranny breeds."

Eisenhower's 21-minute address opening the 10th consultative committee meeting of 18 nations at the Colombo Plan conference was warmly received.

Some 200 Asian and Western leaders and their delegations representing one-third of the world's population stood and applauded the President as he entered the conference room. Twice again they broke into applause and gave him another rousing hand as he left for a return flight to Washington.

Strong Endorsement

Prime Minister Walter Nash of New Zealand and the foreign ministers of Canada, Cambodia, Indonesia, Nepal and Vietnam formally replied to the President's talk. Their responses in general strongly endorsed the program Eisenhower unfolded to them.

Typical of the response of other delegates was that of Hayato Ikeda of Japan who said through a spokesman:

"We are impressed that he did not deal in generalities but in concrete measures which showed the depth and extent of his interest in the Colombo plan."

Eisenhower did not estimate the cost of his 5-point economic proposals. He carefully stipulated that portions of the program are subject to the approval of Congress which holds the purse strings and to the maintenance ofa sound U.S. economy.

The 5 Points

Eisenhower's 5 points were:

1. An expanding high level of trade with less international restrictions.
2. An intensified program of technical assistance to other countries through the U.S. foreign aid program and the United Nations technical assistance program.
3. More emphasis on private investments as a means for speeding economic growth.
4. More public loans for such projects as highways to be provided on normal banking terms.
5. More loans for development financing which would permit borrowing countries to repay their debts in whole or in part through the country's own currency.

IT'S THE DRAFT BOARD'S TURN

Peace Prize Won By Belgian Priest

Oslo, Norway (AP)—A Belgian Dominican priest who has devoted his energies since World War II to helping refugees Monday won the Nobel Peace Prize he openly sought —"not for the honor" but for the money to help his crusade. The prize is worth $41,227.

The Rev. Dominique Georges Pire was at prayer in the Sarte Dominican convent of Huy, where he lives on the River Meuse, when the award was announced.

On emerging from the retreat, he told a reporter:

"I was not expecting it any more. I had stopped thinking about the Nobel Prize."

The 48-year-old Roman Catholic priest said he was "astounded, but so happy."

Money Is Welcome

He said the prize money—or most of it—would go to completing a new "European village" he is building for 20 refugee families near Brussels.

The 5-man Nobel committee of the Norwegian Parliament as usual gave no reason for its choice—nor disclosed the names of any others who might have been considered.

The announcement winds up the award of Nobel Prizes for 1958—awards that went to Russians for literature and physics, to 3 American geneticists for Medicine and a Briton for chemistry.

Soviet poet-novelist Boris Pasternak, author of the anti-Communist Western best-seller "Doctor Zhivago," has declined his prize for literature. He turned it down under Communist pressure.

Father Pire, who won the Belgium War Cross with palms and the French Legion of Honor for serving as an active member of the underground which fought the Germans, heads an organization known as "Europe of the Heart."

Man Who Left Jail Picked Up

Police apprehended John H. Taylor, 45, of 1326 A, who walked away from the city jail Monday morning after he was released to a bondsman.

Police reported the man was picked up around 6 p.m., after he was spotted at 17th & Vine.

Taylor had pleaded innocent to a drunk charge in Municipal Court and was held pending the posting of a $25 bond. He was released from jail to bondsman Ben Hall.

As the bond was being prepared, Taylor walked away, police said.

Nike Site Study Here Tomorrow

Picking Missile Base Locations

An Army Air Defense Command reconnaissance team will arrive in the Lincoln area Wednesday to select sites for Nike Hercules air defense missiles which will soon protect the area against enemy air attack.

The team, consisting of Maj. Fred H. Baker and Capt. Henry C. Sellers of the 4th Region Army ADC and assisted by representatives of the Army Engineer District, Omaha Corps of Engineers, will be in the area about one week.

Site recommendations must be approved by Air Defense Command headquarters in Colorado Springs before the final decision to acquire land is made.

What They're Seeking

The survey will be made on the basis of both meeting the technical and tactical requirements of a Nike site and of affording maximum protective coverage to the area.

A final site decision would take about two or 3 weeks after the survey is completed.

Each of the two sites (there will be two missile batteries in the Lincoln area) will provide air defense for an area of 20,000 square miles.

8-12 Miles Away

The sites will be located 8 to 12 miles from the defended area—believed to be Lincoln Air Force Base.

Wherever possible, government-owned land will be selected.

A typical installation would require 35 acres. Each battery would be manned by about 100 men, have 12 launchers and cost about $1.5 million exclusive of specialized equipment.

Construction of the missile units could begin in 1959.

Death Faced By Jamali

Baghdad, Iraq (UPI) — The Supreme Military Court Monday convicted former Premier and United Nations Delegate Fadhil Jamali and 2 other monarchy leaders of treason and sentenced them to death by hanging.

Jamali

Spectators in the courtroom burst into cheers. Street demonstrations started. There were shouts of "death to the traitors."

Condemned with Jamali were former Army Chief of Staff Gen. Rafik Arek and former Deputy Chief of Staff Maj. Gen. Ghazi El Daghastani.

During the July 15 insurrection that overthrew the monarchy of King Feisal, Jamali had been reported murdered along with the king by the mobs. It was learned later that Jamali had been arrested but was alive.

EX-DRAFTEE GETS TO 'GREET' DRAFT BOARD

A former draftee who received greetings from the President through Lincoln draft boards has returned the honors by presenting greetings from the President to 3 volunteer members of the same boards.

Fred L. Meehan Monday presented the greetings, certificates issued in recognition of 10 years of service with the selective service system, to L. R. King, John S. Stewart and Ellis D. Verink, all of Lincoln.

Meehan was chosen to make the presentation by Colonel Francis S. Drath, deputy state director, because he was a member of the first group of men drafted by the Lan- began functioning under the current selective service act in 1948.

Attorney Fee Schedule Adopted By Bar Assn.

An advisory fee schedule to be used as a guide in setting attorney's fees in Nebraska has been adopted by the Nebraska Bar Assn.

The action is an agreement among the state's attorneys which will be useful in the setting of fees, especially when this must be done through the courts, according to Allen Field, chairman of the Advisory Fee Schedule Committee.

The new schedule is not obligatory, only to be used as a yardstick in determining fees.

Omaha's Higher.

Omaha and Lincoln have had local bar association fee schedules for many years. Omaha is specifically excepted from the statewide fee schedule, because the Omaha Bar's schedule has a higher rate.

The intention of the new schedule is not to set a minimum rate, but to set a fair rate guide, Field said.

The schedule:

Abstracts

Examination of title to real estate and opinion: Where examination is for loan purposes and a different fee is not fixed by an existing contract $15.

For other purposes: 35c per entry, 30c per page of court proceedings, exhibits and certificates, but if the total so computed is less than $20, the minimum shall be $20.

In no event, shall fee be less than one-fourth per cent of the purchase price. There shall be an additional fee for re-examination.

Schedule III

Estate Consists of More Than $60,000. Made Up Wholly of Jointly Owned Property. The fee shall be 2% of the gross value.

Schedule IV

Where Estate Consists of Property Which Must Be Probated and Jointly Owned Property. The aforesaid property will be separated, the respective rate applied to each and the total thereof shall constitute the fee, Schedule I rates applying to property which must be probated and Schedule II or III applying to jointly owned property.

Pat Prouty, Fiancee

Of special interest to Lincoln and to University of Nebraska campus circles is the announcement made this morning by Mrs. Harry Prouty of Scottsdale, Ariz., and Mr. Prouty, also of Scottsdale, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Pat, to John K. Castle Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Castle, of Scottsdale.

The wedding is planned for Jan. 30, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the Church of St. Barnabas on the Desert, Episcopal.

Miss Prouty attended the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, and the University of Arizona.

Mr. Castle is a graduate of Ohio State University and is a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

Around The Town

—it still is early week—but certainly it is not too soon to mention week end activity For all practical purposes the week end begins on Friday—and that is the day that Mrs. W. A. Munro of Park Rapids, Wis., will be arriving in Lincoln.

Mrs. Munro, who will be en route to Arizona, will be the house guest of Mrs. Donald W. Miller during her brief stay in town.

On Friday evening Mrs. Miller will compliment Mrs. Munro when she entertains a small group of guests at dinner at her home.

* * *

—someone told us that Mrs. H. E. Gooch, who has been visiting her sister in New Jersey for the past several weeks, will be leaving the east coast for California later this week. She will be accompanied west by her daughter-inlaw, Mrs. Amsden Gooch, who has been in New York City on a buying trip.

* * *

—Heard, too, that Alfred DuTeau will be returning home on Wednesday after a 10 days stay in New York City. Mrs. DuTeau and her sister, Mrs. D. B. Porter, will remain in New York for another week.

* * *

—Then we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Milton Beechner had returned from a trip to the west coast. In Los Gatos, Calif., the travelers were the guests of Mrs. Beechner's brother, Robert Streeter Aldrich. From Los Gatos, accompanied by Mr. Aldrich Mr. and Mrs. Beechner went to San Francisco and Yosemite National Park. Before returning home Mr. and Mrs. Beechner spent some time in Los Angeles, and were the guests for one evening of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sanderson, formerly of Lincoln, who reside in Pomona. En route home Mr. and Mrs. Beechner stopped in Las Vegas.

Surprise Party, Housewarming

The world is full of surprises, and the incentives for an exceedingly pleasant surprise on Saturday evening were Dr. and Mrs. Richard Wieland (Lynn Holland).

The party was a housewarming for Dr. and Mrs. Wieland who are all settled in their home at 2115 Stockwell where the door bell rang at about 6:30 o'clock, and in trooped a group of the Wielands' friends. Needless to say they received an enthusiastic welcome.

Dear Abby . . .

Do It—Or Else!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Don't you think if a person gets all A's and B's on her report card she should get something for it? Especially if her parents have an above average income? I always dread for report cards to come out not because of the marks but because the kids always ask me what I got and I don't know what to say. Even kids who get worse marks than me get something. Thank you.

"A's and B's"

DEAR "A's and B's": Many parents (and yours are obviously in this group) feel that a child should do his best whether he is rewarded or not. One youngster put it this way. "It ain't what I get If I DO— it's what I get if I DON'T."

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: What kind of nonsense did you tell that poor spineless chump who complained because he was "outvoted" when it came to the menu for Sunday dinner? "Sneak home your own steak and maybe the frau will agree to cook it for you!" BIG DEAL! My advice would be: "Give the kids their lumps and send them off to bed supperless. Then, to the wife who cooks only hot dogs and hamburgers because the kids like it — give her a good chop on the jaw and set her before the stove to prepare meat fit for a man to eat. Most sincerely,

R. G. R. ("Wears The PANTS")

DEAR "WEARS": Henry the Eighth is the only man in history who gave his wives a choice between a "hot steak" and a "cold chop" — and got away with it. Your solution is too risky for the average 20th century man.

DEAR ABBY: My teenaged son had his picture, name and address in a national magazine and several girls wrote to him. He started a correspondence with a 16-year-old girl from Omaha and she called him long-distance a few times. He tells me now that she is coming to spend Christmas vacation with us. She could share a bed with my 12-year-old daughter, but I would rather not have a strange girl coming to visit us. We know nothing about her. I wonder what kind of mother would send her 16-year-old daughter to visit a strange boy in another city? How should we cope with this situation? We are respected people in this community. PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: If your son invited this girl to be his house-guest, he had no business doing so without your consent. If the girl invited herself, she is much too aggressive, and should be discouraged. Have your son write to her and tell her quite frankly that his parents do not approve of her coming. Period!

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 15, but am very mature for my age. I go with a boy who is 21. My mother doesn't care for him because he doesn't like to dress up. He wears jeans and doesn't even own a pair of dress pants. When I date him I have to lie about who I am going with, and he sends somebody else to the door to get me. I don't like sneaking around, but there is no other way to get to se him. Can you help us solve our problem? He is a very nice boy. P and H

DEAR P AND H: A "very nice boy" doesn't send somebody else to the door to pick up his girl. If you don't know better at 15—he should know better at 21. He's not as nice as you think he is.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Your Answer?

Question: Does Sparing the Rod Spoil the Child?

F. B. BAYLOR

Attorney

"I absolutely think that the rod should be used if it is used with judgment and at the right time. The punishment should fit the impropriety and it is at this point that the parents' judgment should be exercised. If the child has done something that is quite seriously wrong the rod should be used."

MRS. B. PROCOPIO

5919 Randolph

"Judicious use of the rod can effectively augment other types of imposed discipline, inasmuch as the young mind is not completely able to reason and discipline itself, in conformance with the needs of proper human and cultured behavior; a healthy respect for the rod brings into proper perspective the law of force versus the law of sweet and willful obedience. Thereby discipline by force is obtained rather than by reason at least long enough for the law of reason to reassert itself and then harmony and adjustment through Divine and human law."

MRS. HELEN COX

Chief Juvenile Probation Officer

"No child has ever been hurt except for a few minutes, by the parents adhering to the quotation from the Bible, providing the so called "rod" is administered in a humane and understanding manner.

This manner of punishment given with love and the child's best interests at heart is seldom misunderstood by the child.

Another adage that still bears a grain of truth is this: "When there's a woodshed behind every home, most cases of juvenile delinquency can be settled out of court."

MRS. MARVIN FALING

2835 Prairie Road

"I don't think that punishment by use of the rod spoils a child if it is used at the right time and in the right manner. If the rod is used by the parent with fairness and good judgment it can be a very effective means of punishment. However, I don't think the rod should be the sole means of a child's punishment."

PROF. W. W. RAY

Professor of Botany University of Nebraska

"I cannot say that the rod should always or should never be used. I think there are occasions when it is the only means of punishment, and other times when the use of the rod is harmful. If the child makes an error in judgment, the rod should not be used. It is only natural for a child to learn through trial and error, and these mistakes should not be punished by the rod; instead he should be encouraged so he will continue to try to learn. However, I do think that utter rudeness should be punished by the use of the rod."

Marriage Solemnized

For the wedding of Miss Myrna Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Baker of Lincoln, formerly of Falls City, and John Allan Whitfield, son of Mrs. Christina Whitfield of Norfolk, which took place Sunday, Nov. 9, yellow chrysanthemums and lighted candles decorated the chancel of the First Christian Church in Falls City. The 3 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. H. E. Cunningham.

The maid of honor and her sister's only attendant was Miss Verba Baker of Falls City, who wore a sheath frock of blue wool with black velvet accessories. Her shoulder corsage was fashioned of Talisman roses.

Bob C. Perry of Falls City served Mr. Whitfield as best man, and the ushers were Chester Nixon, Hamlin, Kan., and Marvin Scheitel of Falls City.

The bride chose for her wedding a daytime ensemble of pastel blue wool fashioned in the sheath mode and accented by a tucked cummerbund of matching blue satin. The V neckline was complemented by a corsage of white rosebuds, and her accessories were Navy blue.

A reception for 100 guests was held in the church parlors.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitfield will reside in Falls City.

Bridal Shower

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Bonna Tebo whose marriage to Hobart V. Hays will be an event of Saturday, Nov. 15, Mrs. Hobart G. Hays was hostess at a dessert luncheon on Sunday. Ten feminine members of the immediate families were invited to the Hays home for the informal affair, and during the afternoon a miscellaneous shower was presented to the honoree.

Alumnae

The November meeting of the Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae will be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 18, at the home of Mrs. Jack Cole, 2724 Stratford.

Following a 7:30 o'clock dessert, the group's annual "Christmas" program will be held.

Mrs. Don Etmund is chairman of the hostess committee and will be assisted by Mrs. Ellery H. Davis, Mrs. George Day, Mrs. Fred Deweese, Miss Kay Deppen, Mrs. Robert Dobson, Mrs. Robert Edgren, Mrs. Dale Ganz, Mrs. Robert Garretson, Mrs. Roger Gohde and Mrs. Woodrow Magee.

Mrs. JayCees Aid Annual Bazaar

A group of members of the Mrs. JayCees of Lincoln had a busy day on Monday when they went to Omaha to assist in the booths at the annual bazaar benefitting the Children's Memorial Hospital.

All-out co-operation for the bazaar is a state-wide project of the Nebraska Mrs. JayCees, and the Lincoln group completed many articles for sale at the two-day benefit which opened on Sunday.

Lincoln chairman for the project was Mrs. Bob Wise who was assisted by Mrs. Gay Cole, Mrs. Ken Pohlman, Mrs. Rod Dudley, Mrs. Dick Williams and Mrs. Dick Dearing.

Loading one of the three cars for the trip to Omaha early Monday morning were (from the left) Mrs. Charles Casper, Mrs. William Hastings, Mrs. Mark A. Buchholz, Mrs. Wilbur Voss, Mrs. Don Leising and Mrs. Merrill Rose.

November Is A Gay Month In Suburbia

EASTRIDGE

The younger set definitely takes top billing in the news this Tuesday morning in Eastridge. We have numerous birthday parties on the agenda as well as coffees, parties and house guests to note.

Entertaining at her home at a coffee on Thursday morning was Mrs. Joseph Kinney. Those included on the guest list were Mrs. Harry Rust, Mrs. John Wright, Mrs. Les Rau, Mrs. Bob Taylor, Mrs. Bill Hemke, Mrs. Duane Holman, and Mrs. Wes Masley.

Mention of coffees reminds us that Mrs. Stanley Reilly was also a hostess at her home on Friday morning when she was hostess at a neighborhood get-acquainted coffee. Twenty-five women attended the affair which carried out the fall theme.

Visiting in Eastridge during the week end were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Schmidt of Sioux Falls, S.D., who were guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Cherry.

Understand that Mr. and Mrs. Don Stockholm and their two children, Don Jr. and Bob, spent the week end in Verdigre visiting Mrs. Stockholm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Stoural. They returned to Eastridge on Sunday.

Also visiting in Eastridge during the week end was Mrs. P. F. Dodson of Beatrice, who is the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Neal.

Turning now to news from our birthday book we find three parties on the social calendar.

It was Dick Cherry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cherry, who was the birthday celebrant at his home last Monday afternoon. Those helping him celebrate his third anniversary were Mike Beltz, Julie Sonderegger, Chris Neal, Suzanne Sim, Anna Maria Wells, Billy Zeitz, and Gregg Pejsar.

Another birthday celebrant was Carol Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Christensen, who was honored on her ninth anniversary at her home on Friday afternoon. Those joining the fun were Carol's four-year-old sister, Connie, Cheryl Lingenfelder, Kay Calkins, Linda Mallon, Gerry Hicks, Jane Peterson, Kathy Kugel, Kathy Cochran, Janet Bottum, Mary Jean Smiley, Sandra Wise and Verna Wall.

At a Thursday afternoon dessert and party Wendy Brown, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Albert Brown, was honored at her home on her fourth birthday. The guests included Rory Sue and Billy Ann Rolfsmeyer, Sue and Judy Anderson, Debbie Gartner, Linda Hagerman, Margie Miller, and Wendy's sister, Danelle.

Entertaining at her home at a 1 o'clock dessert-luncheon last week was Mrs. Vincent Dreezen. Guests at the bridge party included Mrs. Jim Hutchinson, Mrs. Howard McCoy and Mrs. Gene Lingenfelder. During the afternoon the women made plans for a steak fry at which their husbands will be guests.

Connie's Column

by Constance Flame

STILL-USEFUL GLOVES

Don't throw away old rubber gloves! A practical housewife suggests: With scissors, cut the finger into several very strong rubber bands. (Hands and cuffs make larger ones.) Cut some wide, some narrow. You'll find dozens of uses for 'em!

MINCEMEAT 'N PUMPKIN

Lady next door says her family never can decide between pumpkin and mincemeat pie at Thanksgiving. Do you share her problem? Try this for cheers: Cover bottom of an unbaked 9-inch pie shell with 2 cups mincemeat. Bake at 425 degrees in gas oven for 15 minutes. Prepare half a recipe of pumpkin pie filling and pour over partly cooked mincemeat. Reduce heat to 350 degrees; bake for 35 minutes. Circle with whipped cream sweetened with honey. Sprinkle lightly with ground nutmeg.

HOW DO YOU KNOW WHEN THE INSIDE OF A ROAST IS DONE?

The new 1959 streamlined gas ranges now on display at your gas appliance dealer have the answer to this one. They now come equipped with an automatic thermostat which you simply insert in the roast, set dial to temperature desired, turn on oven and while you're enjoying holiday fun and entertaining, your roast sizzles tenderly in controlled heat. When it's done, oven clicks off automatically! Ask the friendly people at your local gas company or gas appliance dealer to show you how these gas ranges think for themselves!

TOO MUCH DOUGH

Some pastry dough left over? Try these tasty ways to make it disappear: Roll dough into a ⅛-inch thick sheet. Top with butter creamed with brown sugar and chopped nuts. Or a mixture of creamed butter, sugar and cinnamon. Or tangy grated cheese. Cut pastry into strips, any size or shape . . . round, square or even roll it up like a jelly roll and slice ¼-inch thick. Pop in gas oven for 8 to 10 minutes and bake at 400 degrees. Perfect partner for tea, good with a salad lunch or as a midnight snack.

IN ANY WEATHER

Quiet as a kitten, dependable as the sun! That's how I feel about natural gas. It's one of the oldest public utilities, yet the reserve supply continues to be piped across great mountain ranges, through deep valleys and beneath swift rivers night and day to serve us in homes and industry with a never-ending supply. No fear of our supply being cut off by a storm either; Northern Natural Gas Company pipes this miracle fuel underground to your local gas company, who pipes it into our homes whether skies are grey or blue!

PLASTER PROBLEM

Do you chip and crack plaster walls when you attempt to hang pictures on 'em? Next time, heat the nails thoroughly in hot water. The hot nails will soften and moisten plaster. Nails slide in easily!

STAMPING CHRISTMAS CARDS

Who likes to lick postage stamps? Bet you don't like the taste of glue any more than I do. A cut potato surface is just moist enough to dampen stamps, when you send out Christmas cards!

Pitt's 'Cardiac Kid' To Perform Here Saturday

Lincoln Star Special

Pittsburgh — Pitt's "Cardiac Kid" will be in Lincoln Saturday with his quick right arm and although he doesn't have the rating of Dillon, Coach John Michelosen wouldn't trade him for any marshal in the west.

He's Ivan Toncic, a cocky, quick-thinking quarterback, who would just as soon throw a pass from his end zone as anywhere on their field. He's Pitt's best passer in 7 years but more important, he's a leader, something lacking on last year's team.

The first college pass he threw proved to be the difference. With 22 seconds left, he flipped a 22-yard TD pass to Art Gob to give Pitt a 6-3 win over Oregon. This was last year. All season long, he drove the enemy crazy with his tactics.

This year, Toncic and Bill Kaliden have given Pitt a tremendous one-two quarterback punch. Kaliden was the hero against Minnesota and Notre Dame.

Misses Teeth

Against Army, Toncic made a vicious tackle and when he got up, he noticed two front teeth were very loose. He pulled them out and handed them to the nearest official. "Take these, sir," Toncic said. "I will get them later."

A 5-11, 178 pounder, Toncic was not too much sought after when he was graduated from Midland High. The Pitt coaches had their eyes on two other quarterbacks who decided to go elsewhere. Toncic was the 3rd choice but nobody has regretted the choice.

The junior signal-caller has completed 36 of 57 passes for 577 yards and 4 touchdowns. He has intercepted 3 passes and returned one 55 yards for a score.

"There's just something about Toncic that makes him great," Michelosen said. "He just has that don't give-a-darn attitude that makes him great. The players have complete confidence in him. If he would call a pass from the end zone, not one player would question his call."

Toncic is just a fair runner and isn't a great long passer. He doesn't have the power to be a great runner but against Notre Dame, he scored on a beautiful 10 yard run for the 3rd touchdown. He faked two players out of position.

It's his play calling which gives everybody fits. With minutes to go against Army, Pitt had 4th and 32 on the 50. The score was tied and the play called for a punt.

"Nuts With Tie"

"Nuts with a tie," said Toncic. "We want the win. That's the way the game should be played. If a guy plays for a tie, he shouldn't be playing."

Toncic flipped a pass to Gob which wasn't enough for a first down. However, if the pass was incomplete, Army had enough time to score if it completed any passes.

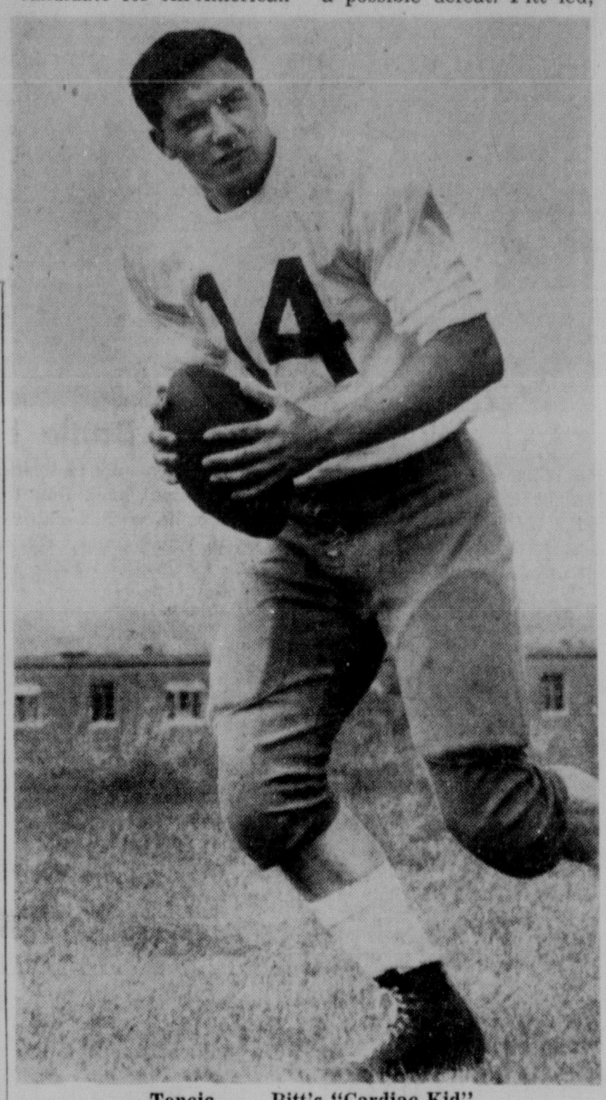

Sometimes Toncic's calls gets the team in trouble. "When this happens, we dig in twice as hard," said guard John Guzik, a strong candidate for All-American honors. "We just don't want Toncic to look bad."

Intercepts Pass

Against West Virginia, Toncic intercepted a pass on the last play of the game in Pitt's end zone to stop a possible defeat. Pitt led, 15-8, but Toncic saved the day. He also intercepted a pass earlier in the game to stop a Mountaineer drive.

The "Cardiac Kid" will be in town. Maybe he doesn't have a sponsor or a girl like Kitty but don't let this stop you from coming to Memorial Stadium.

Toncic doesn't follow a script and the outcome is always different.

Toncic . . . Pitt's "Cardiac Kid"

NU Great Still Likes Football

. . . Guy Chamberlain Returns 'Home'

By Ron Speer

It's been 40 years since Guy Chamberlain was roaming the gridiron for the Nebraska Cornhuskers, but the first NU All-American still knows—and enjoys—his football.

Chamberlain, an all-time Nebraska great as an end in the days of the powerful Stiehm-Rollers, Monday was "at home" at 3740 Washington Street after a 45-day stay in Veterans Hospital for abdominal surgery.

"I feel fine," the frisky ex-footballer said Monday night. "I talked a lot of football at the hospital, and I watched all the games on television that I could."

What about Nebraska's football fortunes?

"We're coming along. Of course, we're short of manpower this year, but I think the freshmen will fill the gap next fall.

"Nebraska has an outstanding freshman coach (Warren Schmakel) and they tell me his boys were really ripping 'em up in their games this fall.

"That's what we need, some more boys like that sophomore Fricke (Don) . . . you know how hard he hits. We want 'em all to hit like that, and I think this year's freshmen team will do it next fall.

"I think Nebraska officials are using their grant-in-aid funds wisely, and the results will show up."

Chamberlain watched the Kansas-Nebraska game on television, and had this comment: "If our line had been hitting like it was in the Colorado game we would have had no trouble with Kansas.

"Against Colorado the line was giving the Nebraska quarterback time to work his plays, and was also crashing through to foul up the Colorado offense."

Guy chuckled when told that Nebraska fans would be glad to hear of him again. "Most of the alums that watched me play aren't with us any more."

Ward Takes Blame For Buff Losses

Denver (AP) — Coach Dal Ward, whose Colorado football team has lost two straight games, said "if there's anything wrong with CU football, it's 100 per cent my fault."

He told the Buffalo Roundup Club he was aware there has been criticism of his coaching following losses to Oklahoma and Missouri.

"I ask only that these people (the critics) keep their pot shots above the belt," he said. Then Ward, in his 11th year at the Big Eight Conference school, turned his views to the diappointments that followed Colorado's 5 game winning srteak.

"It seems everything that has happened to CU these last two games has been Ward's fault," he said.

"Of course, the way Oklahoma and Missouri played had nothing to do with it. And there were no bad kicks and no fumbles by C.U. Only by Ward. That's all right. Only keep the pots shots above the belt."

The Buffaloes lost 23-7 to Oklahoma then 33-9 to Missouri last Saturday.

The coach commented in his off-the-cuff address that "CU receives nothing but peanuts in the way of outside financial support but that isn't what's at fault.

Okies Must Play Best Game—Bud

. . . In Big 8 Clash With Missouri

Oklahoma City (AP)—Oklahoma must play its best game of the season Saturday if it expects to beat Missouri for the Big 8 Conference football lead.

That comes from Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson, who moans before every contest, but finds this week a real challenge in a fast improving Missouri team.

Wilkinson told the Oklahoma City Quarterback Club Monday the Sooners will even have to top their finest effort of the season, which was against Colorado, in order to win at Norman.

He pointed out Missouri's first two lines are "identical with the people in our line" and added: "We haven't seen two backfields like theirs all year.

"They have finesse, speed and power to make a great deal of yardage, even after they are tackled. They are hard to bring down."

Reflecting on last week's 20-0 victory over Iowa State, Wilkinson said his Sooners played "a good football game in every respect if you take the fumbles out. We lost the ball 7 times on fumbles. If you lose the ball that many times, you're fortunate to win.

"We moved the ball well. And except for 3 plays in which Iowa State made 110 yards, our defense was good. Iowa State is an extremely well drilled and organized team."

Clive Rush, Oklahoma's assistant coach who scouted Missouri's upset of Colorado's 33-9 last week, called the Tigers "the most improved team in the conference.

"A lot of people felt that Missouri played a good game only the second half but I feel they outplayed them the entire game.

"Their defense was outstanding and they out-rushed and out-fought Colorado. They also have an explosive offense."

Cliff Speegle, Oklahoma State University coach, also at the luncheon, laughingly noted "we were happy to get out of the Kansas State game alive." OSU won 14-7.

OSU entertains Kansas at Stillwater Saturday and Speegle pointed out the Jayhawks, after a difficult first 4 games, had improved each week.

"The Tulane game made Kansas as a football team when it won 14-9," he explained. "Then it beat Kansas State 21-12 and Nebraska 29-7. Kansas is one touchdown better each game and it looks like 35 points against us."

Pittsburgh Boasts Plenty Of Beef

By Don Bryant

If it's any help in the morale department, Pittsburgh won't be the heaviest team the Nebraska Cornhuskers have faced this fall.

But the Panthers are mighty big and rate the No. 2 spot in the beef trust behind Purdue which spanked the Scarlets, 28-0, in the second game of the campaign.

John Michelosen's Pitt powerhouse, which boasts a 5-2-1 record, has a line average of 209-plus, while the backs average 185 for a team average of 200.

Purdue rates as the heaviest Husker opponent. The Boilermakers averaged 215 in the line and 188 in the backfield for a team average of 205.

These fiigures, of course, represent only the starting players for the Panthers and Boilermakers.

Pittsburgh, however, gets the nod for the heaviest three teams. The Panthers' No. 2 unit is a carbon copy of the first — line 209, backs 189, team 201.

Then comes the No. 3 squad which is probably considered dwarfish at Pitt. The line averages a mere 207, the backs a paltry 183 and the team a spindly 199.

Since Nebraska is likely to start the same unit that opened against Kansas, the Huskers will have their work cut out for them. And they can count on giving away pounds.

The Scarlet line, backs and team average is 189, which means the Huskers will spot 20-pounds per man in the line and 11-pounds per man in the team averages. They'll have a 3-pound edge in the backfield.

Pitt will bring a 5-2-1 mark to Lincoln and the Panthers will be fresh from a 29-26 win over Notre Dame. Other victories were over UCLA, Holy Cross, Minnesota and West Virginia.

Michigan State beat the Panthers, 22-8, and Syracuse —which shelled Nebraska, 38-0—nipped them 16-13.

Monday afternoon Coach Bill Jennings held a light workout for the Huskers who played at Kansas. The top two units drilled in sweat clothes and Jennings indicated there would be little contact work this week.

LSU Is Tops In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

It's going to take a stout crowbar to pry Louisiana State out of first place in the weekly Associated Press college football poll if the Tigers continue to manhandle their opponents as they did Duke last Saturday. It was their 3rd week as No. 1 team.

The sportswriters and sportcasters participating in the voting, impressed by the 50-18 victory over the Blue Devils, this week again made Louisiana State No. 1, with the Iowa Hawkeyes, who clinched the Big 10 title Saturday, again in the No. 2 spot.

Army held its No. 3 position despite the fact the wilting Cadets had a bad scare, pulling out a victory over Rice with a long pass in the final seconds of their game at Houston.

Army also was hard-pressed to hold its No. 3 position as Auburn crowded up to winin 23 points of Earl Blaik's team as it moved from 5th to 4th place.

Auburn displaced Northwestern in the 4th place, as the Big 10 school dropped out of the Top 10 as a result of its defeat by Wisconsin.

Northwestern, in fact, was the only one of the Top 10 teams of a week ago to fail to make it this week. Oklahoma held its No. 6 spot, Wisconsin moved up from 7th to 5th, Mississippi jumped from 9th to 7th, Purdue held to No. 8, and the Air Force remained No. 10.

The newcomer to the select list is Texas Christian, which moved from 11th to 9th.

The top 10 teams, with the first place votes and the won-lost records in parentheses (points on 10-9-8, etc., basis):

| 1. | Louisiana State (95) (8-0) | 1,532 |

Donald Campbell Hits 248 For New Speed Record On Water

Lake Coniston, England (AP)—Donald Campbell Monday flashed to a world water speed record of 248.62 miles per hour (400.12 kilometers per hour) and then set his sights on new breath-taking speeds on both water and land. He said he aims to a 300 MPH water record and 400 MPH in a new car he is now building.

Campbell set the new mark—his 5th in 3 years—in the gracefully slim jet hydroplane Bluebird. He easily bettered his old record of 239.97 MPH (384.73 KPH) set Nov. 7, 1957.

Now the 37-year-old son of the famous British speed king, Sir Malcolm Cambell, has 3 new targets—275 MPH (442.55 KPH) next year on water, 300 MPH (482.79 KPH) in 1960 and a new land speed record of 400 MPH (643.72 KPH) in a car being built.

The late Sir John Cobb established the land record of 394.2 MPH (634.06 KPH) on Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, in 1947. Cobb was killed on Loch Ness, Scotland, 6 years ago while trying for a water speed record.

Campbell set his new record Monday in a nerve-stretching battle against time and the weather.

International rules say that attempts on the water speed record must consist of two runs over a measured kilometer with the average speed counting. Both runs must be completed within an hour.

Cambell's first run was 188 MPH (302.54 KPH). He followed that with 243.40 MPH (391.7 KPH).

The British speedster then waited for the swell to die down. As he prepared for another run, the engine cut out. The minutes ticked by. Nine minutes before the hour's time limit elapsed Campbell streaked across the calm water at 253.84 MPH (408.5 KPH)— and the record was in the bag. Of course, he counted the second and 3rd runs.

Two minutes after the 3rd run a strong wind whipped across the lake, making conditions impossible for high speed runs.

Campbell had been waiting at Coniston for 7 weeks to make the reccord attempt. Rough weather and modifications to his 30,000 pound ($840,000) Bluebird delayed the attempt. All the time Campbell remained calm and unruffled.

Ballymoss Liked But Odds Fall

Laurel, Md. (AP) — With a firm and fast grass course in prospect for the Washington D.C. International today, the odds on favored Ballymoss were shortened, but Russia scored a strategical victory in the draw for post positions.

Zaryad, the pacemaking half of the Soviet team, drew the No. 1 spot when formal entries were made this morning. Garnir, the late comer who beat Zaryad in the Moscow Derby, was on the extreme outside in No. 10. Sandwiched in between were 8 horses from 6 other nations. This is the 7th running of the $100,000 classic in which the winner collects $70,000.

Ballymoss, champion of Europe who runs for Ireland but is owned by John McShain of Philadelphia, got No. 7 post in the draw. The Irish-bred colt's odds were sliced from 8 to 5 to 6 to 5 for the mile and one half battle on the grass course.

Clear and cool weather was forecast for today, with the temperature in the upper 50's by the 4:45 p.m., (CST) posttime. Ballymoss, who won the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth stakes and the Prix De L'Arc De Triomphe, runs in about the middle of the pack and makes his move in the stretch. He won the Arc De Triomphe on a track softened by rain, but trainer Vincent O'Brien said he prefers firm footing.

Mrs. Adele L. Rand's Clem, second choice at 4 to 1, runs on the front end, but he drew No. 8 post and jockey Willie Shoemaker will have to get him away flying to gain position. Right alongside Clem in the walkup start is the other U.S. representative, Mrs. Herbert Hoff's Tudor Era.

Odds on the German horse, Baron Henry Thyssen's Orsini, also were shaved from 8 to 1 to 6 to 1. Orsini, a real darkhorse, got the No. 2 post.

Alfredo Lechin's Escribano, from Venezuela, drew No. 3; Tharp, an Irish colt brought over by Carleton H. Palmer of New York, is No. 4; Australia's handicap champion, Sailor's Guide, owned by A. C. Dibb and his son, Keith, drew No. 5; and No. 6 went to Dr. Erwin Wasserman's Revoque, from Argentina.

Wesleyan, Doane Battle For Trophy

When Wesleyan hosts Doane Friday night in the football finale of the season for both teams, the Plainsmen will be favored to regain the coveted Merrill-Main trophy which they lost last fall. Doane Coach Al Papik (center) displays the trophy to trainer Martin Mills (left) and halfback Don Weber of Hebron. In the 9 previous battle Doane has won the trophy 6 times, Wesleyan twice. (Photo special to The Star)

Oshkosh Slate Isn't Toughest

By Al Beebe

"I would bet that Oshkosh plays more teams in the class ahead of it than any other team in Nebraska." So writes Charles Greenlee in a letter boosting Oshkosh.

But you lose, Mr. Greenlee. Oshkosh, although it does play a strong 10-game slate with 6 Class B clubs on the schedule, does not take the prize.

Fullerton, with an 8-game schedule, plays 7 Class B clubs. The Warriors move into the rating this week in 9th place.

In fact, of the 10 teams listed in Class C, only one, Alma, does not have a B team on the roster. Only one other plays only one B club.

Here is a run-down on the comparative schedules of the rated Class C teams:

1. David City St. Mary's — 4 B, 4 C.

2. Loup City — 6 B (including a win over a rated B team), and 3 C.

3. Red Cloud — 2 B, 7 C (including rated Alma).

4. Oshkosh — 6 B, 3 C (including loss to Morrill) and one out-of-state.

5. Waverly — 4 B (loss to rated Ashland), 4 C plus Lincoln Northeast reserves.

6. Alma — 9 C, two of them rated clubs.

7. Cambridge — One B (a one-point loss to Grant, which beat Oshkosh last week 26-7), and 8 C, including Alma.

8. Morrill — 4 B, 4 C (win over Oshkosh).

9. Fullerton—7 B teams, including No. 1 Schuyler, plus one C club.

10. Battle Creek — 3 B, 6 C.

In addition, several other challergers also play strong schedules. Pawnee City, for instance, has a Class A club and 5 B foes on its slate. Deshler, Shelton, Stuart and Valley are among those playing 5 Class B opponents. Many more play 4 teams from the higher class.

So Oshkosh does not have a monopoly on a good schedule. Many C teams know its value.

Coach Loses Son

New York (AP)—Dick Donelli, Columbia quarterback and son of the Lion coach, suffered a severe knee sprain in last Saturday's Dartmouth-Columbia game. X-rays showed no damage to the bones but did not reveal whether the knee cartilage had been injured.

Donelli is a doubtful starter in Saturday's game against Pennsylvania and may be out for the rest of the season.

SCOTTSBLUFF LIKED OVER COLUMBUS

By Al Beebe

Basking in the sunlight of our best prediction week of the season, we head into the final week with new vigor. Or perhaps, it's just that we know it's almost over.

Our score last week was a lofty 35-5, hiking the season mark to 259-87—.749, a gain of 17 points during the week.

Most of the week's final games are today, but the big one is Friday when Columbus hosts Scottsbluff in the Big 10 Conference playoff. Other playoffs are the Trans-Nebraska today at Burwell and the Husker at West Point on Friday.

Scottsbluff at Columbus (Friday)—The Bearcats, despite an impressive 9-0 mark, are still something of an unknown quantity. Columbus is known to be good, but still lacks depth. Scottsbluff should prove itself.

Hebron at Burwell—Both are surprising teams. Unbeaten Hebron (8-0-1) has won most games in an underdog role. So has Burwell (9-1). Slight choice to Hebron's beefy line.

Wayne at West Point (Friday)—Unbeaten West Point gets the nod.

O'Niell St. Mary's at Lawrence—The 8-man battle of the year between two rugged defensive ball clubs. Lawrence to win in a low-scoring game.

The others (selection in black type).

Gering at Mitchell, Wauneta at Oshkosh, Valentine at Plainview, Seward Concordia at David City St. Mary's, Missouri Valley, Ia. at Tekamah, Chadron at Crawford, Beaver Crossing at Milford.

Friday: Elwood at Orleans, Ansley at Taylor, Bennet at Dunbar.

Iseman Out

Princeton, N.J. (AP) — Second string wingback Mike Iseman, Princeton's fastest and biggest back, will miss Saturday's game with Yale because of a knee injury suffered against Harvard.

The 6-4, 204-pound sophomore from Fremont, Nebr., who runs the 100 yard dash in less than 10 seconds, tossed the conversion pass that beat Harvard 16-14.

Ray Empson, a senior from Dallas, Tex., will fill in for Iseman, who may be ready for Princeton's last game against Dartmouth Nov. 22.

Ceresco Wraps Up Husker 8 Title, 33-7

By Al Beebe

Prague — Ceresco wrapped up the Husker Eight Conference crown and a perfect 10-0 season with a smashing 33-7 triumph over previously unbeaten Prague here Monday night.

Under the smart quarterbacking of Don Johnson, hard-running halfbacks Daryl Pearson and Larry Samuelson ripped Prague for consistent gains. Johnson didn't pass often, but connected on a pair of long TD tosses.

Johnson's first touchdown pass took the heart out of Prague, which had just scored to narrow the count to 13-7 with two minutes left in the half. But Johnson hit Francis Laden with a 54-yard scoring play on the first play after the kickoff, and Prague never threatened again.

With Pearson doing most of the work, Ceresco marched 40 yards after the opening kickoff. Samuelson plunged two yards for the score.

Prague took its turn then, and moved from its 30 with Frank Petrzelka and Bill Perk running well. But Ceresco stopped Petrzelka on the one and launched another drive from there, Johnson keeping for the final 4 yards.

Ceresco had another chance when Perk fumbled on the kickoff and the Eagles moved to the one, where Samuelson went into the end zone but left the ball with Prague's Rudy Vanek, who returned to the 4. Three passes by Petrzelka, 20 yards to Kenneth Jambor, 35 to Vanek, and a final 16 to Jambor, produced the score.

But then Johnson hit Laden. He passed 36 yards to Pearson for a 3rd period marker, and Samuelson added another in the final quarter.

Prague finished a successful year despite the loss, owning an 8-1-1 record.

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Ceresco | 6 | 14 | 6 | 7 | —33 |
| Prague | 0 | 7 | 0 | 0 | — 7 |

Ceresco: TD, Samuelson 2 (2, 21 runs); Johnson (4 run); Laden (54 pass from Johnson); Pearson (36 pass from Johnson). PAT: Pearson 2, Johnson.

Prague: TD, Jambor (16 pass from Petrzelka). PAT: Petrzelka.

Hospital Advisors To Hear New Care Concept

The State Health Department will submit a totally new concept of hospital care for Nebraska to the Dec. 5 meeting of the State Hospital Advisory Council, a state official said Monday.

State Hospital Director Verne Pangborn said the Health Department would seek the Council's approval for adopting the so-called Michigan Plan of providing hospital care based on geographical need rather than on the present local need basis.

If approved by the Council, the Michigan plan will be submitted to the State Board of Health for approval.

37 Units

Pangborn said the plan provides for breaking down the state in some 37 geographical units which would be judged for allocating federal Hill-Burton hospital funds on the basis of their area needs in the following categories:

General hospitals, mental health clinics, tuberculosis treatment centers, diagnostic and treatment centers, skilled nursing homes, chronic disease hospitals, rehabilitation facilities, and public health centers.

Currently, Nebraska is judged for the awarding of Hill-Burton funds largely on the basis of its community needs in these areas of hospital care.

Old People's Home

Under the new plan, a community might request Hill-Burton funds for a new old people's home. However, if the State Hospital Advisory Council studied the area according to its needs and found it had greater need for an addition to its hospital, the addition could be constructed while transforming the old hospital unit into an old people's home.

The present plan would only allow construction of the new home for the aged if the proposed home were found eligible for Hill-Burton funds. No substitutes could be made, Pangborn said.

The federal government has approved the Michigan plan for use by the states if the states agree to its adoption Pangborn said.

Specialist Trend

The hospital director said one reason for the success of the new plan in Michigan is a trend of specialists to leave their big-city medical centers for prolonged stays in out-state areas where they practice their fields of specialization.

Modern methods of transportation, especially by air, allow medical specialists to travel where and when they desire, Pangborn said.

He said the hospital division has divided the state up into 37 areas largely on the basis of the specific areas' accessibility by car and plane.

Teachers Of Music In State Meet

New Constitution Considered Today

A new constitution is expected to be adopted at the Tuesday morning general session of the Nebraska Music Teachers Assn., according to Dr. William Bailey, president.

The new constitution will call for two vice presidents, one in charge of programs and the other in charge of membership.

Also slated for Tuesday will be election of officers at the afternoon general session, with a meeting of the new executive board immediately following.

The executive board is composed of the state officers, chairmen of the various committees and chairmen of the various musical sections.

Biennial Meet

The association is holding its biennial convention at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Dr. Paul Beckhelm of Mt. Vernon, Ia., told the convention that the United States "needed to do more on the exchange of cultural ambassadors, instead of rattling our sabers.

"We welcome Russian artists with no nationalistic feelings, and Russia was enthusiastic over American artists like Van Cliburn and the Negro Porgy and Bess presentation," he said.

More Unity

Dr. Beckhelm also urged a greater unity among the high school music teachers, saying that they should all participate in the state, division and national association.

Dr. Beckhelm, president of the West Central 6-state division of the Music Teachers National Assn., is director of the conservatory at Cornell College in Mt. Vernon. His topic was "Music or Missiles."

A Lincoln private music instructor was the first person in Nebraska to be given a "certificate of professional advancement" in the Nebraska Music Teachers Assn.

Mrs. Harrod Honored

Mrs. Beth Miller Harrod received the highest of three levels of certificates, all given to private music teachers to "better teaching," according to Dr. Bailey.

Mrs. Harrod

The first session was topped by a 6:30 p.m. banquet, at which 3 musical groups from the 3 colleges in Lincoln performed.

The groups were: Arnold Becchetti, graduate assistant in music at the University of Nebraska, piano; the Golden Chords Chorale from Union College, under the direction of J. Wesley Rhodes; and Miss Mary Louise Holding, a soprano from Wesleyan University and her accompanist, Miss Pauline Slonecker.

Legislative Committee On Credit Ends Study

The Legislative Council committee studying retail credit and installment loan practices held its final executive session in Lincoln Monday to determine its recommendations for legislation to the 1959 session.

The committee, headed by Sen. Mervin Bedford of Geneva, will present its report to the Legislative Council which meets Nov. 18-20.

More Election Cost Reports Put On File

Personal campaign expense reports from several candidates, and additional reports on campaign contributions were filed with the Secretary of State's office Monday.

The Democratic Finance Committee for Nebraska reported supplemental contributions of $436, bringing to $7,797 the campaign contributions reported since Oct. 14. Committee disbursements totaled $7-090, leaving a balance of $760.

M. D. Hemphill of Tekamah, treasurer of the Olinger for Legislature Committee, reported campaign contributions totaling $158 in Oliver Olinger's successful bid for the 12th District post. Committee expenses also were listed at $158.

In personal campaign expenses, Attorney General C. S. Beck reported $1,016 in his successful bid for re-election on the Republican ticket.

Secretary of State Frank Marsh listed campaign expenses of $801 for re-election on the GOP ticket.

For '59 all six Ford wagons are bigger . . . over 7 inches longer inside with over 13 cu. ft. more cargo space riding on a 2-inch longer wheelbase. They're far easier to open and load, too, than other wagons in Ford's class. They have a still-larger glass area. What's more, Ford is the only manufacturer of the most popular three who knows how to provide comfort—and still keep all seats facing forward!

Sen. Bridges Proposes Revamping Of Senate GOP Leadership

Washington (AP) — Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) met threats of a rebellion with a proposal to revamp the Senate Republican leadership to include a representative of GOP liberals.

Bridges, who heads the Republican Policy Committee, also announced he will support a move to provide at least one important committee post for incoming GOP senators.

With the party's Senate contingent reduced to 34 in an election that saw several conservatives fall, surviving and incoming liberals have been quietly preparing for a fight to gain a larger voice in the party organization.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) told a news conference that if the party's liberals do not get a stronger voice in running things in the next two years Republicans may face more election reverses in 1960.

'Fanatical'

Aiken blamed GOP losses in last week's election on the "fanatical fringe that has attached itself to the party — the extreme right fringe."

Aiken complained that in the past "the very conservative element had access to the White House (and) the rest of us at the hill have been expected to pull chestnuts out of the fire."

Sen. William F. Knowland of California, who bowed out of the minority leadership to run unsuccessfully for governor in his state, generally is expected to be succeeded in the Senate post by Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois. Dirksen is not regarded by the self-styled liberal Republicans as one of their number.

Bridges, who leans toward the conservative side, said in a telephone interview he will propose expansion of the organization lineup to include an assistant leader in addition to the floor leader and whip. While Bridges declined to comment publicly, it was evident he thought the liberals ought to be satisfied with the 3rd string job of whip.

In anticipation of such a proposal as Bridges said he will make, the liberals have been toying with the idea of attempting to block the choice of Dirksen in an effort to get at least 2nd place for one of their number.

The leadership roles are largely nominal, except for the fact that those who fill the posts are invited to sit in on weekly meetings with President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon at the White House. Liberals say this is important to them in order to have a voice in the formation of some of the legislative proposals submitted by the President.

As a possible candidate, several of the liberals are understood to have pledged support for Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California. Kuchel, who came to the Senate in 1953, has the advantage of being the only Republican senator now representing a Pacific coast state.

AF Gets 2 More Moon Orbit Tries

San Antonio, Tex. (UPI) — Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, disclosed that the Air Force will get two more chances to put a satellite into orbit around the moon.

But before the Air Force shoots another Thor-Able rocket—it already has fired 3—the Army will take a whack at putting a moon satellite into orbit, probably Dec. 4.

The Army will use a modified Jpuiter with extra stages. The Air Force shoots Thor rockets. Its 2nd firing produced the Pioneer that got out about 80,000 miles. Its 1st and 3rd firings were failures.

Dr. Dryden and about 700 other space experts are attending the 2nd international symposium on the physics and medicine of the atmosphere and space, sponsored by the Air Force's School of Aviation Medicine and Southwest Research Institute.

Dr. James A. Van Allen, head of the State University of Iowa's physics department, who did the radiation instrumentation on all U.S. earth satellites said there is a "cone of escape" at the poles through the newly discovered deadly belt of radiation around the earth.

He thinks that human beings may use these cones, roughly bounded by the aurora borealis, as avenues through the radiation to interplanetary space.

The U.S. Explorer rockets have measured radiation to maximum of 1,300 miles above the earth and Dr. Van Allen said the maximum measured is about 5 roentgens.

As far as 8,000 miles out—excepting the polar cones—he thinks radiation may go as high as 1,000 roentgens an hour, about twice a fatal dose.

3 Things

Dr. Van Allen said he wants very much to do 3 things:

—Send a radiation counting package straight into space about 80,000 miles.

—Put a radiation-counting satellite into an orbit for at least a year of steady measuring not yet swept by satellites,

—Eventually shoot a satellite into a pole-to-pole orbit.

The space probe experiment, designed to do on purpose what Pioneers did by accident, has been propsed to the National Aeronautics and Space Agency (NASA) and is expected to be fired in the next year.

NASA has assigned a Juno II, an Army Jupiter with 3 added stages, to this project.

Sen. Curtis Has Time Bomb For 1960–Union Paper

Sen. Carl Curtis, member of the Senate Rackets Investigation Committee and a frequent critic of organized labor, "has a time bomb set for him to go off in November of 1960," the Unionist, official publication of the Nebraska AFL-CIO, said Monday.

Curtis faces re-election in 1960.

The publication said it hopes Sen. Roman Hruska, re-elected last Tuesday, will become acceptable to labor.

"We did not turn our big guns on Roman Hruska as there still remains the possibility he may still wipe off the ooze of Republican reactionaryism," the Unionist said.

NASA Planning No Break-Up In Von Braun Team

San Antonio, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Monday said his comparatively new agency has no intention of breaking up Dr. Wernher Von Braun's successful missile team at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala.

Washington reports recently said the team would be disbanded and its members scattered throughout other agencies.

Dr. Dryden said in an interview, there will be discussion as to how the team may best be used in the national interest, but that the NASA considers the Von Braun group "as a team."

Dryden was here for a space symposium.

Canvass Shows Ashland Pool Lost

Ashland, Neb. (AP) — The canvass of votes in last Tuesday's general election by the Ashland City Council Monday disclosed that a $57,000 swimming pool bond issue, originally thought to have been approved, was defeated.

A 5 vote error in one ward incorrectly had given the issue 60.3% of the viote. Needed for approval was 60%. The canvas totals were 370 in favor of the measure and 249 opposed.

After Vacation

Moncks Corner, S.C. (UPI) —U.S. District Judge John E. Miller said he would consider a Circuit Court order to enjoin Little Rock officials from leasing public school buildings for use as private segregated schools after he finishes his vacation.

Miller, who arrived here for a week of fishing, said he did not know of the Circuit Court's opinion until contacted by UPI.

Airliner Baby, Mother Doing Fine; Father Stays Close By

Omaha (AP) — Mrs. Kow Ju Sei, 21, and her as yet unnamed son were reported "doing fine" at an Omaha hospital Monday after the baby arrived suddenly Sunday while his parents were en route to New York City on a Trans-World Constellation plane.

The 6 pound, 9 ounce boy was born just at the plane set down at the Omaha Municipal Airport. The delivery was in the airplane lounge.

Kow said he had been in Hong Kong about a year and was en route home too New York. It is his wife's first visit to the U.S.

The Kows passed a check by immigration officials Monday, according to Robert C. Wilson of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Kow exhibited an American passport dated the latter part of 1957, Wilson said, and the man's wife had an immigration visa which accorded her entry as the wife of an American citizen.

For the mos part, Kow remained closeted with his wife and baby. Hospital officials said it was customary to isolate a baby not born in the hospital as a precaution against contamination of the nursery.

Kow has refused to talk to newsmen and to pose or to allow any pictures to be taken of his family. He also refused for a time to see the Rev. F. W. Dieterich, hospital chaplain, who lived in China 13 years.

The pastor explained that the reluctance is understandable, explaining: "People who do not come from a Communist area fail to understand how terrified the people are of any one who wants to know about them. Kow undoubtedly is familiar with Communist tactics."

U.S. Ousts New Red Demands

. . . Troop Pullout

Washington (UPI- — The United States Monday rejected new Red Chinese demands for the withdrawal of allied forces from South Korea. A spokesman indicated this country feared such action might invite new communist aggression.

The spokesman, Joseph W. Reap, also said that if the Communists sincerely wanted a Korean settlement they would agree to free elections, conducted under United Nations supervision, to reunite the divided nation under a single government.

Reap made the statement to newsmen after the Red Chinese government sent a note to the British charge d'affaires in Peiping demanding withdrawal of the U.N. forces as the 1st step toward reunification of the country.

The note was in response to a U.N. request to the Communists to clarify the conditions under which the Reds would agree to free Korean elections.

Reports from the area said the note, which was broadcast by the New China News Agency, noted that all Chinese Communist "volunteers" have been withdrawn from North Korea.

Omaha Tot's Death Probed

Omaha (AP) — The death of an 18-month-old Omaha girl of causes a pathologist said "could not have been natural" was under investigation by police Monday.

The infant was Deborah Champlin, daughter of Mrs. Myrle Champlin, 25.

Mrs. Champlin said she took her other children to the movies — and left the baby with a man. When she returned, the woman said the baby was dead.

Acting Coroner George Sullivan said the autopsy report listed the cause of death as an internal hemorrhage from injuries to the abdomen. Sullivan said there were black and blue marks on the chest and abdomen and four small puncture wounds in the abdomen.

Police said they were questioning the man Mrs. Champlin left with her daughter.

LIQUOR LICENSE DENIED TO CLUB

The State Liquor Control Commission has ordered denial of the Class C, liquor-by-the drink, license application of James R. Gates, operator of the plush Flamingo Club of South Sioux City.

The commission said it based its rejection on the recommendation of the South Sioux City Council and that evidence failed to disclose that the city council acted arbitrarily and without good and sufficient cause.

Some 20 or so persons attended recent hearings on the controversial application. Among those present were members of the South Sioux City Council and the mayor.

The commission ordered a 30 day suspension of the retail beer license issued to Robert L. Schamp, Dorchester, on charges of allowing his premises to be conducted in such a manner as to create public censure.

The commission also said Schamp filed a license application, listing his address as Dorchester when in fact it was in Lincoln.

—Ordered a 14-day suspension of the retail beer license issued to Norman J. Mullin, Albion, on charges of selling beer to a minor.

Ordered a 30-day suspension of the retail beer license of Alfred L. Walsh, Elkhorn, on charges that Walsh pleaded guilty Sept. 18 in U.S. District Court to a felony. The felony, the commission said, involved dispensing with out a license emphetamine sulphate tablets to Thomas M. Rice, U.S. narcotics investigator in Omaha.

The commission also said Walsh was charged with purchasing beer from Omaha distributors at a time when his merchandising credit account exceeded 30 days in violation of commission rules.

More Threats

Miami (UPI)—Anonymous callers threatened 4 more Miami area establishments, including a church, with bombings. Police said they thought the callers were crackpots or psychopaths.

The new threats to a Roman Catholic church, two Miami Beach hotels and a restaurant which serves Negroes at the back door brought to 8 the number of establishments receiving bomb scares in the past two days. Two protestant churches, which had been patronized by uninvited Negroes, a Catholic church and a Catholic hospital were threatened earlier.

Hanson 'Sure' Brooks Won Governor's Race

Newcastle, Neb. (AP) — State Democratic Chairman Russell Hanson of New Castle said Monday he "felt for sure" that Democrat Ralph Brooks had unseated Victor Anderson as Nebraska governor.

Hanson commented as the Associated Press reported its unofficial figures showed the McCook schoolman leading Republican Anderson by 2,458 votes.

Over the weekend, the AP said, Brooks increased his lead by 112 votes on the basis of mail vote count and revisions in unofficial figures.

"I think it shows that the people were unhappy with the leadership they did have." Hanson said. "Tuesday's election showed they were ready for a change."

He also hailed Brooks victory as due to "increased activity of the Democratic party in Nebraska" and the "strong backing of our National Committeeman Bernard Boyle of Omaha."

Incomparable. Not in this century has there been such a bourbon. ANTIQUE is mellow as time itself. Know why?

You begin with the best—and you end with perfection. You select the finest, richest bourbon whiskey for the barrel. You watch over it day and night. You wait out the years for one golden moment—the moment of maturity.

Then and only then do you take it from the oak, pour it into bottles and label it "ANTIQUE." Incomparable.

Missouri Hydro Power Generation Sets Record

. . . Previous High Mark September, 1958

Omaha (AP) — Hydro power generation on the Missouri River set new records during the month of October, the Missouri River Reservoir Control Center reported Monday.

October power generation at the 4 operating plants on the main river was 329 million kilowatt hours. The previous record, 385 million, was set in September, 1958. October generation this year was 27% higher than for October of 1957.

Commercial towboats moved 147,000 tons of freight on the Missouri during October, exceeding the previous high month by about 45,000 tons.

Beginning Oct. 29, water releases at Gavins Point Dam, lowermost of the main stem system, were reduced gradually to close the 1958 navigation system Nov. 1 at Omaha and Nov. 5 at Kansas City.

Water Storage Drops

Total storage of water in the 4 operating reservoirs stood at 20,500,000 million acre-feet at the end of October, a decline of 933,000 during the month due to the general lack of rainfall in most of the basin area.

Total storage was 1,250,000 acre-feet more than at the same time a year ago.

Jefferson County's oldest bridge across the Big Sandy was also visited. This one span bridge was erected in 1872 and is a short distance from the Dein farm.

The Historical Society plans a winter meeting at Jansen when pioneer history of the Mennonite settlement will be related.

New Soybean Variety Developed By Iowa Available Here By 1959

Ford, a new soybean variety developed by the Iowa Experiment Station, will be available to some Nebraska farmers for the first time in 1959.

Its principal advantage over Hawkeye, Adams and Lincoln is higher yield. Ford is intended to replace Lincoln as a variety, University of Nebraska agronomists report.

Ford's yield and maturity show it to be superior in northeast, east central and central Nebraska irrigated areas where Clark is too late to be recommended. It would be considered a full-season variety in these areas.

Ford would be considered a midseason to early variety in southeast Nebraska, and its yield is distinctly less than Clark in this area.

Here is the way Ford compares in Nebraska tests:

Yield—consistently exceeds Adams and Lincoln by one to 3 bushels per acre and Hawkeye by two to 4.

Maturity—about 5 days later than Hawkeye, one day earlier than Lincoln, and 7 days earlier than Clark.

Height—about the same as Adams, Lincoln, and Clark.

Lodging—stands somewhat better than Adams and Lincoln.

Oil and Protein—Comparable to Lincoln.

Stocks Score Big Gains As New Highs Hit

New York (AP)—High quality issues scored big gains Monday as the stock market made another record high. Trading was brisk.

The standout performer was American Telephone, the most widely held stock and the favorite of small investors. AT&T soared through the 200 level for the first time since 1946, rising 4 points to 200¾. This was the stock's highest price since reaching 201¾ in 1931.

Just before the 1929 crash, "Telephone" rose to 310¼.

Other blue chips rose 2 or 3 points. Wider gains were made by more speculative issues.

Based on the rise in The Associated Press average the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange increased an estimated $two billion.

A new influx of investment cash from institutions as well as eager buying by traders and the general public were given by brokers as reasons for the rise.

The broad groupings of industrials, rails and utilities joined the climb. Steels, motors, coppers, chemicals and building materials advanced.

The market had a brief period of irregularity at the start when the ticker tape was behind transactions for 9 minutes.

The AP 60-stock average rose $1.60 to the new peak of $204.00, topping the previous high of $202.70. The industrials rose $2.30 to a record high, the rails were up 70c and the utilities rose $1.00 to a 1958 high.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 3.46 to a record 557.72 and Standard & Poor's 500-stock index rose .31 to a record 52.57.

Of 1,232 issues traded 681 rose and 344 fell. There were 140 new highs for the year and 7 new lows.

Volume was 3,730,000 shares compared woth 3,700,000 on Friday.

Twelve of the 15 most active stocks rose, two were unchanged and one, Loew's, eased ⅛.

American Stock Exchange prices rose on volume of 1,20;,000 shares compared with 1,300,000 Friday.

Corporate bonds surged ahead in active trading with rails, industrials and utilities generating much of the steam.

U.S. government bonds posted fractional gains in light transactions.

Corporate trading mounted to $8,310,000 par value on the big board from $7,080,000 Friday.

Oats Only Gainer In Slow Trading

Chicago (AP) — Oats made small gains but all other grains and soybeans were weak in draggy dealings Monday on the Board of Trade.

Most of the setbacks held within narrow ranges but some wheat and soybean contracts slipped as much as a cent a bushel on selling pressure increased shortly before the close.

The weakness was linked mainly to failure of any significant domestic or export business to develop over the weekend. Brokers said the market appeared to have fallen back into the narrow limits in which it has moved along recently and probably won't bestir much until some major influences are brought to bear.

Just now, dealers say prices are at levels ag's, where they could break either way. Although flour mills have been running at capacity they have not been particularly heavy buyers in the futures markets and exports have been at a very low ebb for some time except for a good volume of business with India a week ago.

Wheat closed ¼-1 cent a bushel lower, December $1.94½; corn ¾-1½ lower, December old type contract $1.12⅛; December new type contract $1.12⅛; oats ⅛-⅝ higher, December 65¼-⅜; rye ¼-¾ lower, December $1.30¼-30; soybeans ½-1 cent lower, November $2.13.

SCHOOL IN SOUTHLAND SHATTERED BY BLAST

Morgantown, W.Va. (AP)—An expertly rigged dynamite bomb exploded with shattering force Monday inside a schoolhouse where whites and Negroes began attending classes together without incident 3 years ago.

Following school bombings in the South attributed to segregationists, the pre-dawn blast aroused speculation in this northern West Virginia coal region that perhaps this, too, was the handiwork of racial extremists.

But school and local law enforcement officials said no evidence was found to link the bombing with racial conflict. They added the history of integration in the area since 1955 has been without incident.

Accident Slightly Injures Pedestrian

George W. Lewis, 52, of 4430 So. 48 suffered slight hip injuries Monday night after a car-pedestrian accident at 48th & Meredith.

Police reported Lewis was walking south across Meredith at the crosswalk at the time of the accident. The car was driven by Denny Minear, 17, of 4848 Meredith.

Minear told police he was making a left hand turn onto Meredith and did not see the pedestrian in time to stop.

Lewis was not hospitalized.

Explosion, Fire Rock Catholic School In N.J.

Trenton, N. J. (UPI)—An explosion and fire rocked a Roman Catholic parochial school late Monday, destroying most of the chimney and 4 rooms.

Authorities said the explosion apparently was caused by an accumulation of gases in the chimney. It set off the fire at 5:01 p.m. (EST), several hours after classes had been dismissed at St. Joachim's School.

The fire was brought under control within 45 minutes. No one was injured.

The school is a two-story frame structure in a south Trenton residential area. Nearby are the church and a nunnery where a laborer shot and wounded 3 nuns and two other persons last May.

Louis Felipe Marrero, 24-year-old laborer, was sentenced to 28 to 42 years in prison for his personal war on the church.

Hussein Says Royal Plane Chased Home By 2 Jets

. . . Cancels Trip After Syrian Incident

Amman, Jordan (AP)—Young King Hussein charged Monday two MIG jet fighters attemped to force down his unarmed royal plane in a flight over Syria and then chased him back across the Jordan border. He made no mention of any shots being fired.

Hussein

Hussein in a dramatic broadcast to the nation, explained his unexpected return home less than 2 hours after taking off amid cheers to celebrate his 24th birthday Nov. 14 with members of his family in Switzerland. He declared this trip has now been canceled.

Hussein spoke in solemn but firm tones that gave no indication he had been unnerved. He was unharmed; the royal plane undamaged. The king was riding as co-pilot.

No Official Clearence?

(A spokesman for the United Arab Republic 1st Army in Syria — wihout mentioning Hussein—charged a Jordanian "military plane" was caught trying to fly over the country without getting official clearance. The U.A.R. army statement broadcast by Cairo Radio said the pilot refused an order to land and was escorted to the border after saying he was returning to Jordan.)

The incident dealt a serious blow to efforts to promote better relations between Jordan and President Nasser's U.A.R.—of which Syria is a part.
